India Accuses Chinese Reds Of Aggression

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India has accused Red China of aggressive attitudes "reminiscent of old imperialist powers against whom both India and China struggled in the past."

Prime Minister Nehru's government made public Monday a stiff diplomatic note sent to Peiping Wednesday formally accusing the Chinese Communists of aggression.

"Where aggression takes place the people of India inevitably will have to resist by all means available to them," the note said.

The note put on the record what Nehru has repeatedly declared in denouncing Communist border raids.

It expressed regret that at a time when the United States and the Soviet Union are "striving to their utmost ability to put an end to the cold war there should be this relapse into violence and aggression on the frontiers of India."

(Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev appeared to make light of the dispute when asked about it by reporters at a Kremlin reception. He said the dispute involved territory in the foothills of the Himalayas and "There are no people living in that area." He scoffed at the idea the area had strategic value.)

India said the Chinese attack on an Indian police patrol in the Ladakh district of Kashmir Oct. 21 was a clear case of aggression. Nine policemen were killed. Peiping charged the fighting broke out when the Indians crossed into Chinese territory.

The Indian note said the Chinese Communists cannot agree even among themselves where the border runs, although some of their maps claim about 40,000 square miles of India.

Friends Won't Accept Belief Judge Is Dead

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Perhaps Chicago police and the FBI are right, and Judge W. Lynn Parkinson is dead and his body floating somewhere in the bone-chilling waters of Lake Michigan.

But many residents of this northwestern Indiana city, where the 57-year-old member of the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals spent most of his life, simply refuse to believe it.

Some even are leaving their porch lights burning all night in hope that the judge—missing since the evening of Oct. 2—may be suffering from amnesia and will wander back to his old hometown. Suicide? Never. The judge's friends and associates say he was the most well-adjusted and resourceful man they knew.

Murder? Not likely, the old-timers scoff. Parkinson was a born salesman, unfailingly smooth and gracious and made a point always to leave you smiling, even when he sentenced to prison sent him Christmas cards.

Accident? Possibly, some acquaintances believe. The judge was not in good health, the strain of a heavy court calendar worried him and he apparently was violently ill shortly before he dropped out of sight near the windswept Chicago lakefront.

Nonconformist's Death Attributed To Heart Failure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Langer (R-ND), a turbulent nonconformist who earned the nickname of "Wild Bill" in 45 years of political battling, died in his sleep Sunday.

The 73-year-old senator and former governor was found dead by a daughter, Mrs. Franklyn Gokey of Fargo, N.D., who had been staying with him in recent weeks. Death was attributed to heart failure.

Langer had been ailing since his wife, Lydia died Aug. 4 of cancer. He returned home two weeks ago to recuperate after three weeks in George Washington University Hospital with a recurrence of pneumonia.

Apparently having regained some of his strength, he was in his Capitol office on Friday.

Langer, serving his 19th year in the Senate, ran into many a political squall and outrode them all. His biggest triumph came last year when he won re-election over the opposition of his own state Republican organization without making a single campaign speech.

He was denied the GOP convention endorsement but ran in the primary as an independent, defeating Lt. Gov. Clyde Duffy, who had the party's backing. Langer then went on to win his fourth term in the general election.

Gov. John Davis of North Dakota, a Republican, is sure to appoint a GOP successor to Langer, thus keeping the Senate lineup at 65 Democrats and 35 Republicans.

Langer used a windmill desk-banging style of oratory and spoke in a voice like that of a moose. He could be spotted with the cigar he constantly chewed—always unlit.

Because of failing eyesight in recent years, Langer had a clerk read his prepared speeches to the Senate. But he still spoke extemporaneously on occasion.

Langer voted against the Eisenhower administration more often than with it. He didn't like its foreign policy and was dead set against almost anything proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

He was one of only two senators to vote against ratification of the United Nations charter. The other was former Republican Sen. Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota.

Langer's phenomenal triumph over his state GOP organization last year was ascribed partly to the personal charm that made him an effective vote getter. No problem of any constituent was too trivial to get attention from the senator or his staff.

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—The fourth attempt by the U. S. to recover a man-made object from orbit failed Sunday when the Air Force abandoned all hope of recovering a capsule from the polar-orbiting Discoverer VII satellite.

The Air Force Ballistic Missile Division (BMD) at Inglewood, Calif., blamed a malfunction in the satellite's electrical system for the failure. BMD spokesmen said the capsule failed to separate from the satellite as scheduled on its 17th pass around the earth.

The recovery was to be attempted in the vast "ball park" off Hawaii Sunday afternoon, 26 hours after launching of the 1700-pound satellite.

The Air Force said the Discoverer VII satellite could be expected to remain in orbit for two weeks.

Taken Off Alert

However, the ships, planes and skindivers ready to take part in the long - shot recapture effort were taken off alert "because of the condition in the satellite."

The United States tried to recover 310 - pound capsules from four of five of the Discoverer satellites successfully put into orbit. All other attempts failed, although in Discoverer VII, elaborate attempts were made to "weather-proof" the satellite against the cold that might harm the intricate devices.

Shortly after 3 p.m. e.s.t. Sunday, the Air Force announced chances of recovery were "extremely remote." But the announcement the recovery effort had been abandoned was not made until 7:15 p.m. e.s.t.

"Bug" In Power Supply

The Defense Department said in a statement that telemetry signals received from the satellite indicated that something had gone wrong with the space vehicle's power supply.

It said the malfunction occurred in that part of the power supply which separates the capsule from the vehicle. In a mid-afternoon statement it said the satellite was tumbling slowly as it orbited around the earth.

The satellite was boosted into polar orbit Saturday. It had been scheduled to eject its instrument-carrying capsule over the Pacific on its 17th pass. Three previous attempts at recovery failed.

Steelworkers Return

Mills Across Nation Buzz With Action

By JOHN MOODY
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Steel mills across the nation buzzed with activity Sunday as thousands of striking workers responded to a Taft-Hartley injunction to rebuild the country's nearly exhausted supply of steel.

Hours after the U.S. Supreme Court upheld the injunction by an 8-1 vote Saturday, workers with lunch boxes under their arms headed into mills that had been strike-bound for 116 days. Some spoke harshly of the injunction.

United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald, who headed the USW fight for higher wages and improved fringe benefits, told the 500,000 strikers:

"The Supreme Court has spoken. You are to resume work forthwith."

The union fight for contract improvements may be far from over. The injunction guarantees production for only 80 days. If differences are not settled between union and management by then the strike could be renewed.

Long Task Ahead

But the long negotiations deadlock that dated back to the first contract talks in New York last May was forgotten momentarily. Both management and the workers were busy getting mills back into production.

Steel producers estimated it would take at least six weeks before pre-strike production figures—about 2,600,000 ingot tons a week—would be reached again. It will take much longer to get mills up to peak production.

Even the first workers into the plants knew they may have to wait a month for their first pay checks. Others knew it would be longer than a month before they would be called back to work.

McDonald scotched talk that the Steelworkers may work slowly in an attempt to hold down production. He said the workers "were loyal citizens and would comply with the law of the land."

Furnaces Checked

In the early hours of the work resumption much time was spent checking ironmaking blast furnaces and steelmaking open hearths for damage. Undoubtedly some of the brick linings in the furnaces cracked during the idle period.

It was a bitter blow to the union when the Supreme Court upheld the T-H injunction, which was issued Oct. 21 in the U.S. District Court at Pittsburgh. Enforcement was delayed more than two weeks by USW appeals.

President Eisenhower asked for the injunction on Oct. 16. He said the strike was threatening the nation's economic health and safety. The union argued the strike was causing discomfort but did not threaten the nation.

The Supreme Court's majority opinion rejected all contentions the union made in urging that the injunction be struck down.

Beatnik Sleuths Put Finger On 13

NEW YORK (AP)—Five detectives living as undercover beatniks turned square Sunday and put the finger on 13 habitués of Greenwich Village.

The charge: narcotics violations, man.

After a month in the Bohemian life—complete with beards, berets and jazzy poetry sessions—the detectives struck as part of a city-wide crackdown over the weekend.

Ninety-five persons were arrested in raids that reached into Brooklyn and Harlem as well as the village.

Inspector Edward F. Carey put the value of confiscated heroin, cocaine and marijuana at a million dollars in the illegal market. The masquerading detectives spent virtually all of the waking hours in beatnik haunts to gain the confidence of suspected addicts and pushers.

They adopted such acceptable nicknames as "Gorgeous George," "The Sailor," and "Jamie the Queer."

Rebel Chiefs Slain

ORAN, Algeria (AP)—Two Algerian rebel chiefs were killed by French forces Saturday night near Sidi-bel-Abbes, French military headquarters said Sunday.

They were Si Mohamed, second in command of military operations for Zone 5 of the Oran Wilaya (district), and Zinedine, second ranking political officer of the same district.

Joe Dudas, his wife Veronica and young son went shopping soon after he learned of Supreme Court action which upheld a back-to-work order issued in the steel strike. Dudas is an employee of the Homestead Works of U. S. Steel Corp. in Homestead, Pa., a Pittsburgh suburb. (AP Photofax)

Khrush Says Times Easier, Peace Nearer

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev says times are easier and peace in the cold war perhaps a bit nearer.

He made the observation to reporters Saturday night at a gay Kremlin reception celebrating the 42nd anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

"The situation is better," Khrushchev said in reply to a question. "Americans are beginning to understand us. Some Americans say the only competition between us in the future will be economic, and I agree."

At another point he confided he did not trust generals in some matters. That was when he was asked about what many consider a threat to peace—the border dispute between India and Communist China.

The territory in dispute, said the Premier, has no inhabitants. When asked if the area had strategic value he asserted:

"Give a general any situation and he will find strategic significance in it. I don't trust generals' appraisals of strategic significance."

Khrushchev boasted that the Soviet economy is advancing swiftly, adding: "You can imagine what our economy will be like 10 years from now."

Evidently pleased with his impromptu meetings with the press, the first in recent months, Khrushchev warned to a suggestion that he hold regular news conferences and said he is thinking of holding one a month or perhaps quarterly. He also observed that the Foreign Ministry should have news conferences more often.

Demos Pushing For Farm Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats are stepping up their efforts to corral the farm vote in the conviction it may turn the tide in next year's presidential race.

The decision of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas to make three farm state speeches next month is being interpreted as indicating he intends to apply pressure for enactment of a comprehensive farm program in the next session of Congress.

With talks scheduled at party rallies in Hutchinson, Kan., Dec. 7; Council Bluffs, Iowa, Dec. 8, and Marysville, Iowa, Dec. 9, Johnson seems likely to get some grass root pointers on how the farmers feel politically and what they want done.

Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) all have been gathering up similar information in their hunt through the farm belt for Democratic presidential nomination support.

Panamanians Threaten New March On Canal

PANAMA (AP)—Panamanians threatened Sunday a new march on the Canal Zone and called for U.N. and other action in protest against last week's clash between demonstrators and U.S. guards in the zone.

A Union of University Students spokesman said there will be a march on the U.S.-owned zone if Canal Zone police go ahead with a trial Monday of a student charged with disturbing the peace.

The student was one of three demonstrators arrested in last Tuesday's clash between Panamanians and U.S. troops and zone police. The Panamanians, celebrating their country's 56th birthday, tried to enter the zone.

A student union statement also demanded that the Foreign Office seek the removal of William Potter, governor of the Canal Zone.

President May Visit Far East Next Spring

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomatic sources say President Eisenhower may visit the Far East next spring before or after his trip to the Soviet Union.

New impetus for such a visit followed Eisenhower's announcement last week of his plans to visit the Middle East and south Asia next month before going on to the Western summit meeting in Paris.

The President's desire to travel in the Indian Ocean area and to the Philippines was made known last summer. He also would make Japan a special objective of any such tour.

Tribal Chiefs Charge 90 Killed In Afghan Revolt

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—Tribal elders charged here Sunday that 90 persons—half of them women and children—were killed in an Afghan army crackdown on a recent revolt by Mangal tribesmen in southern Afghanistan.

About 5,000 Mangals have migrated to Pakistan in the last few weeks. Reporters were taken Sunday to villages only a dozen miles from the Afghan border and permitted to talk with leaders of the tribe.

While they were there a caravan of 62 more families arrived from Afghanistan, one of the countries on President Eisenhower's itinerary next month.

Tribesmen said through an interpreter that more are fleeing "repression" by the Afghan army following a "revolt against the present rule in Kabul." Troops were said to be blocking main tracks leading to Pakistan.

Giving reasons for the revolt, one of the elders said the late King Nadir Shah, father of the present king, promised not to build any roads in territory inhabited by Mangals. The Mangals feel roads affect their freedom.

But the present regime started road construction and when Mangals objected they were "fired on and suppressed and disarmed forcibly" even though the late king had promised they never would be disarmed.

One elder, Achkar Khan, charged: "The present government of (Afghanistan) is entering into an alliance with the un-Islamic state of Russia. It is forcing our young girls to go to schools. We do not want to send our daughters and sisters to schools. Our religious leaders are being arrested if they point out that the government's actions are against religion."

Mighty Blasts Rip Ship, Peril Houston Area

25 Hurt; Firemen Win Grim Battle To Control Blaze

HOUSTON (AP)—Fire and a series of explosions raked a tanker loaded with high octane gasoline and other fuels Sunday, injuring 25 and leaving seven missing and presumed dead. Nearly 19 hours later firefighters said the flames had been all but extinguished.

At least five explosions and danger of others had threatened huge fuel storage tanks lining the shore nearby.

Late Sunday Fire Chief C.M. Bullock said the blaze had been extinguished in the ship's hold. Small fires continued to burn in the vessel's superstructure and on a connecting pier.

Authorities listed the ship's captain and six crewmen as missing. They were feared to have perished in the flames.

Hospitals accounted for 18 other members of the 41-man crew—including one in critical condition—and seven others injured fighting the blaze.

Amid repeated flareups, firemen battled grimly to control the blaze as it spread toward ship holds containing about 90,000 barrels of high test gasoline. The vessel lay aground in the Houston ship channel, surrounded by dozens of industrial plants.

Firemen Use Chemical Foam

At 4:30 p.m. men from a fireboat went aboard the tanker and started putting chemical foam on the decks and into the holds.

The tanker was the 12,000-ton Amoco Virginia, a 540-foot craft owned by American Oil Co. Fire broke out about 12:15 a.m. as the ship took on gasoline and fuel oil for a return voyage to Albany, N.Y.

Three thunderous explosions within the first 10 minutes hurled an undetermined number of crewmen into the channel's cold, oil-covered waters. Others leaped overboard or slid down ropes.

Three crewmen told of seeing fire sweep across the channel's surface while they were standing the ship's midnight-to-4 a.m. watch.

Robert E. Dippel, 40, of Brooklyn, N.Y., said the flames leaped first to two barges, from which the Amoco Virginia was taking part of its cargo.

Fire Spotted On Channel

In a statement taken at the Harris County sheriff's office, Dippel said Daley first spotted fire on the channel just forward of the midship house.

"At the time there was a barge coming up the channel and it was pushing the fire on the water," Dippel said. "Finally the fire slid to the barges. Then the barges caught on fire. Then they set the forward deck of the ship on fire."

The seamen notified the tanker's night mate when the fire was about 30 feet from the ship, Dippel estimated.

"When the fire started on the forward part of the ship we ran onto the dock," Dippel related. "We had run about halfway between the dock and the terminal gate when we heard an explosion."

Daley told City Detective A. E. Rockwell he first smelled gasoline and reported to a ship officer while loaders hastened to finish filling the tanker so it could sail. "They continued to smell gas," Daley said, "but they kept on loading, and kept on and kept on."

At one point during a confused nightmare of efforts to check the roaring flames and rescue the injured, Jesse Cavness, Harris County civil defense director, declared:

"If this ship blows, it will be worse than Texas City."

Cuban Blockbuster Note To U.S. Expected

HAVANA (AP)—Diplomatic circles believe Cuba is about to deliver a blockbuster note to the United States blaming worsening relations on Washington.

The note is expected to be based on two sore points for Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime—U.S.-based flights by counter-revolutionaries over Cuba and threats of economic retaliation ascribed to some U.S. congressmen.

The threats of economic retaliation are taken here to mean possible cuts in Cuba's sugar quota in the U.S. market.

Meanwhile, Balsan was wrestling with the youth who made the remark to Susan at the dance. A little later Susan's parents got worried because she hadn't come home, and began searching for her.

At 8:30 a.m. the search continued. Out her apartment window saw a body in an alley and called police. The body was Susan's. Apparently, police said, she plunged from a five-story rooftop eight hours earlier, while Balsan was fighting the man she thought was her father.

Beatnik Sleuths Put Finger On 13

NEW YORK (AP)—Five detectives living as undercover beatniks turned square Sunday and put the finger on 13 habitués of Greenwich Village.

The charge: narcotics violations, man.

After a month in the Bohemian life—complete with beards, berets and jazzy poetry sessions—the detectives struck as part of a city-wide crackdown over the weekend.

Ninety-five persons were arrested in raids that reached into Brooklyn and Harlem as well as the village.

Inspector Edward F. Carey put the value of confiscated heroin, cocaine and marijuana at a million dollars in the illegal market.

The masquerading detectives spent virtually all of the waking hours in beatnik haunts to gain the confidence of suspected addicts and pushers.

Khrushchev Says Times Easier, Peace Nearer

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev says times are easier and peace in the cold war perhaps a bit nearer.

He made the observation to reporters Saturday night at a gay Kremlin reception celebrating the 42nd anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

"The situation is better," Khrushchev said in reply to a question. "Americans are beginning to understand us. Some Americans say the only competition between us in the future will be economic, and I agree."

At another point he confided he did not trust generals in some matters. That was when he was asked about what many consider a threat to peace—the border dispute between India and Communist China.

The territory in dispute, said the Premier, has no inhabitants. When asked if the area had strategic value he asserted:

Khrushchev boasted that the Soviet economy is advancing swiftly, adding: "You can imagine what our economy will be like 10 years from now."

Evidently pleased with his impromptu meetings with the press, the first in recent months, Khrushchev warned to a suggestion that he hold regular news conferences and said he is thinking of holding one a month or perhaps quarterly. He also observed that the Foreign Ministry should have news conferences more often.

Demos Pushing For Farm Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats are stepping up their efforts to corral the farm vote in the conviction it may turn the tide in next year's presidential race.

The decision of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas to make three farm state speeches next month is being interpreted here as indicating he intends to apply pressure for enactment of a comprehensive farm program in the next session of Congress.

With talks scheduled at party rallies in Hutchinson, Kan., Dec. 7; Council Bluffs, Iowa, Dec. 8; and Marysville, Iowa, Dec. 9, Johnson seems likely to get some grass roots pointers on how the farmers feel politically and what they want done.

John H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) all have been gathering up similar information in their hunt through the farm belt for Democratic presidential nomination support.

Panamanians Threaten New March On Canal

PANAMA (AP)—Panamanians threatened Sunday a new march on the Canal Zone and called for U.N. and other action in protest against last week's clash between demonstrators and U.S. guards in the zone.

A Union of University Students spokesman said there will be a march on the U.S.-owned zone if Canal Zone police go ahead with a trial Monday of a student charged with disturbing the peace.

The student was one of three demonstrators arrested in last Tuesday's clash between Panamanians and U.S. troops and zone police. The Panamanians, celebrating their country's 56th birthday, tried to enter the zone.

A student union statement also demanded that the Foreign Office seek the removal of William Potter, governor of the Canal Zone.

President May Visit Far East Next Spring

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomatic sources say President Eisenhower may visit the Far East next spring before or after his trip to the Soviet Union.

New impetus for such a visit followed Eisenhower's announcement last week of his plans to visit the Middle East and south Asia next month before going on to the Western summit meeting in Paris.

The President's desire to travel in the Indian Ocean area and to the Philippines was made known last summer. He also would make Japan a special objective of any such tour.

Tribal Chiefs Charge 90 Killed In Afghan Revolt

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—Tribal elders charged here Sunday that 90 persons—half of them women and children—were killed in an Afghan army crackdown on a recent revolt by Mangal tribesmen in southern Afghanistan.

About 5,000 Mangals have migrated to Pakistan in the last few weeks. Reporters were taken Sunday to villages only a dozen miles from the Afghan border and permitted to talk with leaders of the tribe.

While they were there a caravan of 62 more families arrived from Afghanistan, one of the countries on President Eisenhower's itinerary next month.

Tribesmen said through an interpreter that more are fleeing "repression" by the Afghan army following a "revolt against the present rule in Kabul." Troops were said to be blocking main tracks leading to Pakistan.

Dag Will Leave Tomorrow On Laos Mission

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld announced Sunday night he will go to Laos Tuesday to get firsthand "full, personal knowledge" of the Communist rebel-threatened Indochinese kingdom.

He accepted an invitation from the Laotian government in a diplomatically-worded announcement at U.N. headquarters. The announcement specifically implied neither acceptance nor rejection of the U.S.-backed Laotian charges that the country was threatened by neighboring Communist China and North Viet Nam. The Communists have denied any aggression, and ridiculed the charges.

The U.N. said his one week trip "would aim at providing him with independent and full personal knowledge of the problem" which Laos put before the U.N.

However, the announcement added, Hammarskjöld's trip "has no implications as regards the international situation in Laos, the external relations of that country, or the arrangements agreed upon in Geneva in 1954" when the Indochinese war was ended by truce.

Hammarskjöld's decision to fly to the troubled southeast Asian kingdom in Indochina came after a four-nation investigating commission reported last Friday that there was evidence Communist North Viet Nam had supplied manpower and material to Communist-led rebels in the country.

The mission, composed of Argentina, Italy, Japan and Morocco spent several weeks in Laos but said it could find no clear proof of charges by Laos that North Viet Nam actually had committed "flagrant aggression" and had sent regular troops into the fight.

Giving reasons for the revolt, one of the elders said the late King Nadir Shah, father of the present king, promised not to build any roads in territory inhabited by Mangals. The Mangals feel roads affect their freedom.

But the present regime started road construction and when Mangals objected they were "fired on and suppressed" even though the king had promised they never would be disarmed.

One elder, Achkar Khan, charged: "The present government (of Afghanistan) is entering into an alliance with the Islamic state of Russia. It is forcing our young girls to go to schools. We do not want to send our daughters and sisters to men."

The threats of economic retaliation are taken here to mean possible cuts in Cuba's sugar quota in the U.S. market.

25 Hurt; Firemen Win Grim Battle To Control Blaze

HOUSTON (AP)—Fire and a series of explosions raked a tanker loaded with high octane gasoline and other fuels Sunday, injuring 25 and leaving seven missing and presumed dead. Nearly 19 hours later firefighters said the flames had been all but extinguished.

At least five explosions and danger of others had threatened huge fuel storage tanks lining the shore nearby.

Late Sunday Fire Chief C.M. Bullock said the blaze had been extinguished in the ship's hold. Small fires continued to burn in the vessel's superstructure and on a connecting pier.

Authorities listed the ship's captain and six crewmen as missing. They were feared to have perished in the flames.

Hospitals accounted for 18 other members of the 41-man crew—including one in critical condition—and seven others injured fighting the blaze.

Amid repeated flareups, firemen battled grimly to control the blaze as it spread toward ship holds containing about 90,000 barrels of high test gasoline. The vessel lay aground in the Houston ship channel, surrounded by dozens of industrial plants.

Firemen Use Chemical Foam

At 4:30 p.m. men from a fireboat went aboard the tanker and started putting chemical foam on the decks and into the holds.

The tanker was the 12,000-ton Amoco Virginia, a 540-foot craft owned by American Oil Co. Fire broke out about 12:15 a.m. as the ship took on gasoline and fuel oil for a return voyage to Albany, N.Y.

Three thunderous explosions within the first 10 minutes hurled an undetermined number of crewmen into the channel's cold, oil-covered waters. Others leaped overboard or slid down ropes.

Three crewmen told of seeing fire sweep across the channel's surface while they were standing the ship's midnight-to-4 a.m. watch.

Robert E. Dippel, 40, of Brooklyn, N.Y., said the flames leaped first to two barges, from which the Amoco Virginia was taking part of its cargo.

Fire Spotted On Channel

In a statement taken at the Harris County sheriff's office, Dippel said Daley first spotted fire on the channel just forward of the midship house.

"At the time there was a barge coming up the channel and it was pushing the fire on the water," Dippel said. "Finally the fire slid to the barges. Then they set forward catch of the ship on fire."

The seamen noticed the tanker's night mate when the fire was about 30 feet from the ship, Dippel estimated.

Daley told City Detective A. E. Rockwell he first smelled gasoline and reported to a ship officer while loaders hastened to finish filling the tanker so it could sail.

"They continued to smell gas," Daley said, "but they kept on loading, and kept on and kept on." At one point during a confused nightmare of efforts to check the roaring flames and rescue the injured, Jesse Caveness, Harris County civil defense director, declared:

HAVANA (AP)—Diplomatic circles believe Cuba is about to deliver a blockbuster note to the United States blaming worsening relations on Washington.

The note is expected to be based on two sore points for Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime—U.S.-based flights by counter-revolutionaries over Cuba and threats of economic retaliation ascribed to some U.S. congressmen.

The threats of economic retaliation are taken here to mean possible cuts in Cuba's sugar quota in the U.S. market.

Italian-Americans Give Poor Village Stock Gifts

SAN MARCO D'URRI, Italy radio set—in its lone barroom. (AP)—For centuries this barren, Village youngsters with an eye to the future usually leave it. Only poverty. But its inhabitants—such a boy was Leopoldo Pietro Saturno. In 1878, when he was just turning 20, he went off to the United States. Ten years later he sent for an orphan girl of the village and married her.

To each one, from 18-month-old Orietta Perazzo to 87-year-old Anna Ferretto, went 25 shares of Bank of America stocks, gifts from two sons of a village orphan who made good in the United States.

In dollars and cents, that's about $1,200 worth of stocks, which last year paid a dividend of $1.80 a share, or $45 for 25 shares. (Bank of America stock closed at $47.87 a share this week-end, after going as high as $48.25 Thursday.)

In terms of the toil and hardship the villagers are used to, the gift promises enough money from annual dividends alone to meet their meager needs for several months each year.

For San Marco D'Urri, 30 miles south of Genoa, demands much of its residents but gives little in return. Its rugged Apennine Mountain soil is the poorest of farm land. It is so remote it can be reached only by a mile-long rocky footpath. It has no autos, no policemen, no phones and only one

Train Hits Car At Thurmont, Killing Driver

By The Associated Press

A Western Maryland Railroad train struck a car on a grade crossing in Thurmont, Frederick County, Saturday night, killing the salesman at the wheel.

Samuel Otis Thomas, 66-year-old traveling salesman who lived in Thurmont, died of a fractured skull in the crash. A 17-year-old student riding in the front seat, Mary Ellen Zentz of Thurmont, escaped with only cuts and bruises.

State Police Cpl. J. E. Koontz said the crossing was marked with conventional signs, with no flashing lights. The diesel locomotive pulling a 70-car train knocked the Thomas car 50 to 75 feet off the track without crushing it.

Sgt. Koontz said the girl told him she and Thomas were both looking backward, as Thomas pointed out where he lived nearby, when the train hit the car.

Thomas was driving north on the Appells Church Road, Koontz said, when the eastbound train hit the car on the driver's side about 8 p. m. Engineer Donald H. Rhodes of Hagerstown said the car was crossing the tracks without stopping and he blew his whistle but couldn't stop in time.

Thomas' body will be sent to Centerville for funeral arrangements.

Thelma Eloise Smith, 19, Negro, of Rt. 2, Woodbine, was the victim of another Saturday night crash, also in Frederick County. She was a passenger in a car that left Maryland 144 and overturned several times.

She was dead on arrival at Frederick Memorial Hospital and Dr. B. O. Thomas Sr., county medical examiner, said she died of suffocation when pinned beneath the car.

Trooper First Class John W. Crout said the car traveling east at a high rate of speed was driven by Basil Keener Dorsey, 31, Negro, of Rt. 4, Mt. Airy, an employee of a sanitary commission. He suffered only cuts and bruises.

The accident happened shortly before midnight.

On the Eastern Shore, one man was killed and two others were injured Saturday in a collision at an intersection two miles east of Centerville.

State Police said Noble Bickling, 62, of Goldsboro, Md., was pronounced dead on arrival at Easton Memorial Hospital after the accident. He suffered a fractured skull when he was thrown from one of the cars.

Also thrown from the car was John Kemp, 56, who was reported in fair condition with a fractured skull and lacerations.

Police said Edward Meekins of Chestertown, a 35-year-old passenger in the second car, suffered head and chest injuries.

California Steamed Up Early For 1960 Campaign

Editor's note: Bulging California is steaming up early for the presidential campaign. Relmas Morin reports today. The Pulitzer Prize-winning Associated Press writer has been talking politics in the state for several days with everybody from rank amateurs to the top professionals.

By RELMAS MORIN

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Across his desk, California's Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown eyes a visitor thoughtfully and says, "Would I like to be president? Yes, I would but I'm not a serious contender."

In the locker room of a country club, Vice President Richard M. Nixon sits at a round wicker table gossiping with golfers.

He avoids politics, sticks to golf scores and Soviet strategy—but he knows these are influential men in Southern California.

In a hotel room, one of Sen. John Kennedy's lieutenants jubilates to a reporter, "Some of these California people have made commitments to Jack, definite commitments."

In another hotel, technicians hook up the public address system for another press conference, this one by Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri.

In his office, a manufacturer receives a telephone call from New York City. Will he collect some of his friends and give a luncheon for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller who is due Thursday? He thinks it over and decides against it.

And in Santa Barbara, Santa Monica and Beverly Hills, Democrats set up meetings with another expected visitor, Averell Harriman, former governor of New York and a presidential candidate in 1956.

This is California today.

This is the bulging state, flexing new political biceps, attracting new industry, pulling new residents at an estimated rate of 3,000 a day—and dragging like a rip-tide at the knees of presidential hopefuls, politicians, pool takers, analysts and pulse takers.

"Never saw anything like the way it's hotting up so early," Californians say. "You'd think the conventions were opening next week."

There are two main reasons for all this political scurrying in the dawn's early light.

California has massive blocs of votes in both presidential nominating conventions, 81 in the Democratic, 70 in the Republican. The figures are surpassed in each party only by New York and equaled only by Pennsylvania.

Apart from that, California could speak with the decisive voice in nominating the candidates for both parties. Roughly parallel patterns are taking shape, forming around these questions:

Will Rockefeller challenge Nixon in the vice president's home state? Will any Democratic aspirant risk butting heads with the governor, big, genial "Pat" Brown, in the primary election next June?

In both parties, depending on how events develop next spring, the contestants may feel they have to take that gamble.

Mighty Blasts

The ship was loading at the Hess Terminal, about 5 miles below the port of Houston toward the Gulf of Mexico and 10 miles from the center of Houston's business district.

Two more blasts rocked the countryside after daylight—one at 7:45 a. m. and another at 12:10 p. m.

After the fifth explosion, fire shot down and underneath a big T-shaped pier alongside the vessel and leaped along pipes leading to giant storage tanks on shore. But the flames soon retreated back aboard the tanker, easing the threat at least temporarily.

Sheriff's deputies cleared a considerable area along both sides of the ship channel. They closed a tunnel carrying auto traffic beneath the channel.

Although about 100,000 persons live in the five square miles about the stricken tanker, there are no homes close by in the industrial district. Some residents voluntarily evacuated but there was no mass exodus.

On the basis of seamen's reports, unofficial sources early in the day put the toll in the fire and explosions at up to 21 dead.

By evening, however, ship's officers established that 16 members of the 41-man crew were on shore and unhurt. Eighteen crewmen suffered injuries.

This left seven of the crew unaccounted for and presumed dead.

Italian-Americans Give Poor Village Stock Gifts

SAN MARCO D'URRI, Italy (AP)—For centuries this barren, remote mountain village knew only poverty. But its inhabitants—all 284 of them—became stockholders Sunday in the world's largest bank.

LONDON (AP)—Peter Degnan, 24-year-old Royal Marine reservist, marched 110 miles in 36 hours and 27 minutes and claimed Sunday this is a world record. Derek Mullins, 22, another Marine reservist, started out with Degnan but folded up with a cramp after covering 104 miles in 35 hours and 10 minutes.

"My only problem," said Degnan, "is blisters—about 2,000 of them."

Steelworkers Returning To Baltimore Area Plants

BALTIMORE (AP)—The back-to-work movement has started at the two largest steel plants in the Baltimore area, but the effect on the workers' paychecks and the regional economy will not be immediate.

Maintenance men reported to work Saturday at the Bethlehem Steel Company's Sparrows Point plant and at Armco Steel Corp. after the Supreme Court upheld an injunction suspending the steel strike for 60 days.

A Bethlehem spokesman said 13,000 of the 26,000 Sparrows Point workers were scheduled to return to their jobs by 7 a. m. Monday and the figure was expected to reach 20,000 by Tuesday morning.

By Sunday afternoon Bethlehem reported three of its 10 blast furnaces at the point were operating, and 10 of the 12 coke oven batteries were in operation. The first tap of open hearth steel was scheduled for Monday morning. Bethlehem's workers have lost an estimated 50 million dollars in wages since the 116-day strike began July 15. Another $2,500,000 was lost by the workers at Armco.

The impact of the strike was felt throughout the area as an almost 10,000 workers in allied industries were idled because of the extended walkout.

Retail merchants also lost sales and State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said tax collections were down because of the strike.

The reaction from the steelworkers was mixed. Some were glad to get back on the job, with prospects of getting money to replenish depleted family savings or to pay back bills.

Others thought it would have been better to "stick it out" until the union and management reached an agreement. They predicted the walkout would be resumed when the cooling off period ended.

Teacher, State Employee Wage Plan Criticized

BALTIMORE (AP)—Spokesmen for school teachers and state employees both have criticized a legislative committee's recommendations on salaries.

The Committee on Taxation and Fiscal Matters, headed by State Sen. William S. James (D-Harford), recommended higher pay for both groups about a week ago but said it should be at the higher levels, instead of an across-the-board boost for all.

The Legislative Council, between sessions study arm of the General Assembly, has scheduled a hearing on the controversial issue for Nov. 24.

State Supt. of Schools Thomas G. Pullen Jr. said the teacher pay minimums of $3,500-$5,300 were inadequate and he would "continue to support a $4,000-$6,000 minimum scale."

"What happens to children is dependent upon the kind of teachers they get," he said. "The kind of teachers they get is determined in a large measure by what we pay them."

Dr. Pullen also said the committee's "real problem" is what he termed "financial partnership of the state and the local communities in the operation of schools."

He said state aid to schools has varied from 16.7 per cent to 45 per cent of costs and is now about 37 per cent.

D. Worthington Pearre, executive secretary of the Maryland Classified Employees Assn., was particularly critical of adverse proposals submitted to the committee by the Standard Salary Board and Commissioner of Personnel Russell S. Davis.

Pearre said it is "not their function to pass upon general pay increases. This is the job of the committee, the Legislature and the governor."

Ike, Mamie Worship

WASHINGTON (AP)—The President and Mrs. Eisenhower attended morning services at the National Presbyterian Church Sunday.

They joined several hundred other worshippers at 11 a. m. services conducted by the Rev. Dr. Edward L. R. Elson who discussed the Reformation period and the work of John Calvin, a founder of Protestantism.

SPACE RESEARCH—Wilma Sanson, a graduate student at the University of Manitoba, was the first woman to undergo Canada's space research experiments at Winnipeg. She was in complete darkness and silence for six days in an isolation chamber. Miss Sanson said she did not suffer hallucinations during the experiment as did the four men before her.

Washington Area Bypassed By Polio

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nationwide outbreak of polio this year has apparently bypassed the Washington area.

Health department officials in Washington and in nearby Maryland and Virginia reported a total of 22 cases during 1959 or three more than last year.

The Public Health Service has said that nationally there were twice as many paralytic polio cases this year than last year.

Here is a breakdown of the number of polio cases in the nation's capital and its suburbs:

Washington, 6 this year and 10 last year; Alexandria, 5 this year and none last year; Arlington, 2 and 3; Fairfax County, Va., 8 and 4; Montgomery County, Md., none and 1; and Prince Georges County, Md., 1 and 1.

Duke Plans "Economy" Move In Fall

LONDON (AP)—The wealthy Duke of Norfolk said Sunday he is moving out of his huge, story-book castle into something smaller.

Something smaller will have 12 bedrooms.

The duke, England's premier nobleman, said he decided on the move to save some of the heavy costs of living in the castle.

With the duchess and their four daughters, he will move next autumn into a house being built on the grounds of his historic Arundel Castle.

He described his future home as "a small house in the park."

The 51-year-old duke is one of Britain's most heavily taxed citizens, paying more than 90 per cent of his income in taxes.

He has said in recent years he found it increasingly difficult to maintain his turreted, picture postcard castle in Sussex near England's south coast.

There are 70 workers on the castle estate and 10 servants in the castle.

The duke said the estate will be run as at present. This means the castle will be open again next summer to the public at 2 shillings (28 cents) per person. He put that plan in operation several years ago to help pay the cost of maintaining the castle.

Baltimore's Mayor Favors Property Tax Hike

BALTIMORE (AP)—Mayor J. Harold Grady has backed the Board of Estimates' proposed 26-cent hike in the property tax as the main revenue source to meet an eight million dollar gap.

Other recommended tax sources were for new or increased fees for incineration of privately-collected garbage, water rates for nonprofit institutions, dog licenses, vending machines, etc.

In a statement Saturday, Grady said the property tax increase, which would boost the tax to a record $3.60, would go to balance an "austerity budget." The City Council takes final action on next year's budget.

The mayor pointed out his administration has eliminated obsolete and overlapping functions and merged others. One ancient Baltimore institution that came under the economy ax were the city bath houses.

Grady, only six months in office, pointed out in his statement, "serious problems remain to be faced."

The mayor wanted an earnings tax on anyone who worked in the city, but it would have taken legislative action to provide the authority.

Gov. Tawes turned down his request, saying there wasn't enough legislative support, and the proposed tax measure would encroach on state revenue gathering areas.

Valley Activities To Mark American Education Week

LONA CONING—American Education Week will open today at Valley High School with the announcement of activities and themes being made by Robert Mitchell.

This afternoon is devoted to planned appointments of parents with teachers under the direction of the guidance teacher, James Preaskorn.

The skit, "Anything Familiar," on Wednesday with Richard Evans, Richard Duckworth, Lowell Snyder, Susan Blank and Wanita Clark. Robert Mitchell and Roberta Love presents problems of education to the school.

Robert Mitchell on Thursday morning concludes his reminder of the value of education by a brief summary of American Education Week.

Student Council, under the direction of James Spitznas, has planned a contest of school bulletin boards and display cases. Bonnie Miller has arranged a criteria for judging and presented the procedure of the contest to the school over the public broadcast system. The judging is to take place on Friday, November 13.

Displays have been arranged in a local store window on Main street. A map of the library show paths to the information with book jackets of available books, arranged by Cathy Carter, for the Valley Library department.

Home Economics department, under the direction of Mrs. Florence Hohing, arranged blouses, pajamas and house-coats, made by Pat McPartland, Sandra Jenkins, Alice Jones, Gladys Wilhelm and Carolyn Ashby.

Industrial Arts department under the direction of Joseph Haugen and Alexander Ganyu arranged displays of metal vices, lamps, picture holders and jewel boxes. Ronald Cecil made the metal vice; Ronald Cecil, a dresser lamp; John Deniker, the picture holder; and Gary Clise, the jewel case; lamp by Ray Jeffries; grinder, Richard Cutler.

Yearbook and newspaper departments have displays arranged by Kendrick Y. Hodgdon, "Lance" leader, and Miss Mary M. Sterbutzel, "Shield" staff advisor, of the Valley editions.

The window displays were arranged by Deanie Steiding, Harriet Haran, Jack Ternent, Marion Steiding and Roberta Love.

Morning reminders and the entire displays were directed by Miss Esther Holzshu.

Posters for "American Education Week — November 8-14, Praise and Appraise Valley High School, Visit and View its program of education," were printed in the Art Department by students under the direction of Charles L. Gillis.

Investigate Robbery

PIEDMONT — The recent robbery of the Piedmont Garage, operated by Milton McIntyre, located at the intersection of Ashfield and Second Street, is being investigated by Chief of Police Charles Spiker and Patrolman Robert Mangold.

It was reported that $49.35 which was hidden in the service station, was taken, according to Chief Spiker.

Entrance was made by breaking a small glass in the front door and opening the night catch on the inside.

WCS At Eilerslie Plans Turkey Dinner

ELLERSLIE—The Womens Society of Christian Service, which met this week in the Methodist Church hall, will hold a turkey dinner at the hall November 12.

Mrs. Erma Burkett, who presided, said plans were made for the Christmas party on December 19 at Moon's Dining Room in Cumberland. A jingle gift will be exchanged and class sisters will be revealed and new ones given.

Mrs. Burkett gave a reading "Peace Cannot Be Kept By Force." Fourteen members answered roll call and Circle 1 turned in $34. It was reported that 41 sick calls were made during October.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Anna Mae Cook reported on "The Way In Africa." Members are to save clippings and pictures on Africa to be used by the WCS.

Attend Meeting At College Park

OAKLAND — Mrs. Guy Hardisty, county council president, and Mrs. Allen Baker, vice president, attended the fall meeting of the Maryland State Council of Homemakers' Clubs at the University of Maryland at College Park.

A member of the Kingsley Methodist Church of Cumberland, she moved to Florida about four years ago. She is survived by her husband and several cousins.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Cox Funeral Home in Vero Beach. Interment will be at Vero Beach.

Highway Freedom Loss Foreseen

No one except the most totalitarian-minded individual wishes to impose upon the drivers of this country prohibitive restrictions on the use of public highways, but each highway casualty statistic brings the day closer when there will be a loss of highway freedom as the only alternative to highway survival. To prevent this undesirable situation, a proposal placed before the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators to provide for better exchange of information among the states deserves consideration.

Specifically, the proposal concerned the ease with which a driver whose license has been suspended or revoked in one state can obtain a similar permit in an adjoining state and continue traveling the highways unmolested. The answer, as submitted by the Washington, D. C., Traffic Council, would be a series of reciprocal agreements between neighboring states which would eventually encompass the entire mainland. Under these agreements, each state capital would be notified of every driver whose driving privileges had been curtailed for serious traffic violations.

This is no obscure theoretical problem. Almost every state will issue a driving permit to any motorist who operates a car or truck within its borders, regardless of his residential address. Except for various local agreements between two states, which might honor fines levied by one state against a resident of the other, no attempt is made to inform other safety officials of dangerously incompetent drivers.

Continuing control of the nation's highways in the hands of state and local authorities is certainly desirable, and can be accomplished most efficiently by the use of reciprocal agreements. To lag in such negotiations is to tempt the all-powerful arm of Washington to intercede.

Thoughts On Van Doren

Charles Van Doren did not conceive the quiz show. He was an employee in a fraud; he was a victim of schemers; he lent himself to their chicanery. In the end, it ruined him and cut his career short. That is the narrative of events.

For many moons, TV viewers will argue as to the morality not only of the quiz shows and the give-aways, but also the morality of the proprietors and managers of networks, the responsibility of government agencies and the decency of advertisers and advertising agencies.

It does not seem fair to put so much of the blame on Charles Van Doren. He was, of course, weak and was tempted as some teen-agers are tempted by a hundred dollar bill. Money should not have meant so much to a man of breeding and culture. On the other hand, a rich and prosperous man, highly successful in his field, Xavier Cugat, was also tempted. A clergyman was tempted. Businessmen were tempted. The reward for a photographic memory was too great.

In a word, the businessmen who sponsored the programs, the producers, the networks, everybody connected with this business are the persons of prime responsibility for a hoax on the public. Charles Van Doren has sinned against public opinion, but who has not so sinned? And some of these persons must have known about this business long ago because Jack O'Brian of the "New York Journal American" complained about the nature of these quiz shows and is really responsible for the story of this particular corruption becoming public.

This can be said of Charles Van Doren: He made public confession and expressed profound sorrow for his sins. He is at least entitled to our compassion. He is at least entitled to our pity and to as much fellowship as is shown any person whose error cannot do as much mischief as the corruption wrought by our politicians who perpetuate a burgeoning inflation which can ruin the entire people.

How does one make comparisons? How does one decide whose guilt is greater, the young intellectual who scents a few dollars or the representatives of the people who permit inflation to continue so that they can gain votes in the next election? Anyone who engages in this stimulates inflation.

century. A wise man, such as Bernard Baruch is, has been warning this country of the dangers of inflation for years; nevertheless currently some banks are providing what is euphemistically called "instant credit," a form of over-draft—you write a check even if you have no money in the bank—an utterly inflationary procedure. The banker who engages in this is an inflationary fraud, who, for a bit of usury and profit, stimulates inflation which will not only destroy him but all of us.

Cheating is immoral, no matter who does it, at what age or in what position. The question here is who is the cheat?

The quiz shows, as the testimony before the Congressional Committee established, were an organized hoax, a theatrical contrivance, to provide amusement, employing some professional actors for background but mainly depending upon amateurs who could answer questions in a particular field but who were coached and trained with the object of making the show more attractive and full of suspense.

Into the situation walks Charles Van Doren, a member of a distinguished family of scholars. Charles Van Doren is a scholar of no mean attainments. He has a Ph.D. from Columbia University in the English Department, which is a very tough degree to get. He was, when he was on the quiz shows, an instructor in English at Columbia. Had he been questioned about literature, philosophy, history or art, there can be little doubt that he would have attained a high mark.

The temptation here was not to attain a high mark but to know everything, to be a walking encyclopedia such as Teddy Nadler was presented to be. No truly educated man would care to be placed in such an improbable position. Charles Van Doren's error was that economic desires or pressures forced him into bad company. Perhaps other educated men and women will beware.

But is this man to be destroyed for this one error? It seems that the punishment does not fit the crime—it is too much. It is too great a punishment and it falls on a victim rather than on the perpetrators.

Communists Get Away With Infiltration Tactics

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower, in discussing at his press conference last week the riots and demonstrations against the United States Embassy in Panama, spoke of "extremists," and, in referring to Cuba, said that Communists like to "fish in troubled waters, and there are certainly troubled waters there."

Mr. Eisenhower did not go into details but reaffirmed a recent statement by the American government with reference to the Communist menace in Latin American countries. He said it was "a little bit puzzling" to him why this should occur in the face of the record of friendship of the United States for Panama. He might have added a reference also to the way the United States helped that country to gain independence.

Mr. Eisenhower probably didn't mean that he is in doubt about how such episodes arise, but that he is puzzled as to why governments let such things happen within their borders. The Communist technique is to seize upon any controversial question, no matter how long it has been dormant, in order to play upon the nationalistic feelings of the people.

What is puzzling is that the Communists get away with their infiltration tactics. Even the Communist Party in the United States, protected as it is by various decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, now boldly reveals its part in helping to stir up trouble inside this country not only in the ranks of labor but wherever the school "integration" problem and other questions affecting Negroes are raised.

The latest revelation comes from Herbert Apteke, an American citizen, who has just written for the Communist Party organ in Moscow a long article boasting about what the American Communist Party has done to further the objectives of Communism. Mr. Apteke testified before the Subversive Activities Control Board in 1949 as an expert on "Marxism-Leninism" and acknowledged at that time membership in the American Communist Party. In his article published in Moscow on October 17, Mr. Apteke gives a glowing description of how the Communist Party has recently gained new strength in the United States. He says this occurred after the defeat of what he calls "McCarthyism" — the party's biggest opposition. He adds:

"After the 16th Congress (1957), the party began nursing its wounds and restoring its strength. The national committee plenum which took place in February 1958 was symptomatic in this respect. It insured the further rallying of the party on the basis of the principles of Marxism-Leninism. This permitted the overcoming of the paralysis which in the course of a number of months had been inhibiting the activities of the party."

"Organizational activities revived, the loss in the number of party members was made up, and a certain number of new members, particularly among the youth, was acquired. The party tackled educational work and the

TAFT-HARTLEY — Despite all the emotionalism that has surrounded the use of the Taft-Hartley injunction procedures to settle labor disputes, the record shows that out of 15 cases over the last dozen years, only two have failed to reach a settlement.

In all instances, there are indications that the "cooling-off" period has encouraged sober discussion of the issues and that labor appears to have won in most of the settlements.

Oddly, former President Harry S. Truman, who saw the Taft-Hartley law go on the statute books over his veto, used the machinery it provided 10 times in five years. President Eisenhower, until a few weeks ago, had used it only five times in seven years.

In the opinion of most labor experts, Taft-Hartley procedures are a step in the right direction, but not complete enough to be a fair and reliable "tool" in settling disputes.

There is much talk in Washington of setting up some kind of permanent fact-finding organization which can move in on serious disputes early and make recommendations.

In any event, Taft-Hartley's history over 12 eventful years shows that it has not been used indiscriminately by either a Democratic or a Republican President. And the record shows it has worked to the benefit of labor as well as management and the general public.

82 MILLION DRIVERS — Since autos first appeared, motor vehicles have increased to 68 million, with 82 million licensed drivers. There are three million miles of roads and 300,000 miles of streets. It is estimated that autos and trucks this year will travel 700 billion miles over these roads at a total cost of $75 billion.

Since recent studies show that less accidents occur on highways with prevailing speeds of 55 to 70 miles an hour, highway planners believe that the shocking toll of auto deaths, now totaling one and one-third million lives since the invention of the automobile and the more than three million serious injuries, will be greatly curtailed.

On a test strip of highway near Washington, D.C., federal and state traffic engineers have determined that green is the best background color for signs; that upper and lower case letters are the most readable, and that signs have to be bigger and ever better.

Soon it will be squarely up to the average motorist to show that he can both read and follow three or four systems of numbered road markings.

Philippine Election Tomorrow Shows True Democratic Spirit

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — While Panamanians are rioting against the United States and while Cubans for whom we once fought a war of independence are damning the United States, the Philippines, for which we also fought, hold an election tomorrow.

It will be quite a contrast to the attitude of our onetime friends in Cuba and Panama.

In the Philippines they hold elections; they don't postpone them as Fidel Castro has done in Cuba. Also they don't go in for dictatorships as do some Caribbean countries. They hold heated and intense elections in which about 90 per cent of the people get out and vote. This is in direct contrast to the people of New York who last week didn't turn out in sufficient numbers to pass a school bond bill to help their badly sagging educational system.

In the Philippine Islands tomorrow, people will vote for mayors of cities and for governors. Judging from the intensity of the campaign you would think they were voting for president. There will be some shooting, but there's also been violence from time to time around the polling places of Kentucky and Harlem.

In addition to carrying out the democratic principle of free elections, Filipino candidates are vying with each other to claim friendship with the United States. Greater Marilyn Monroe dissemination of Marxist literature.

"The most important thing was that the party resumed participation in mass work. This refers to the inter-trade union struggle, to a demonstration of jobless people that took place recently, to certain aspects of the struggle of the Negroes, particularly to the movement for integrated children's education in schools.

"The party plays a considerable role in the struggle against military preparations and the foreign policy of 'cold war.' It extends assistance to various mass anti-militaristic organizations and has begun developing a struggle for peace directly among the masses. In recent times, it has organized street meetings and demonstrations in some very large cities."

This disclosure from the pen of a prominent American Communist may come as a surprise to those in this country who constantly pooh-pooh the threat of Communism and call Communism merely another political belief, but it doesn't surprise those in our government who have been watching the activities of the Communist apparatus at close range. Organizing street demonstrations, whether in Little Rock or Chicago, or creating a flag incident in Panama City or West Berlin isn't anything unusual for the Communists to do, and they have a technique of infiltrating existing organizations to stir them to outbursts of various kinds.

Incidentally, Herbert Apteke, who wrote the article for the Communist organ in Moscow, was born in the United States of Russian-born parents and was educated at Columbia University, where he received a Ph.D. degree in 1943. He has testified that he joined the Communist Party in about 1939. He became a captain in the Counter-Intelligence Corps of the U. S. Army in 1944 and was relieved of active duty in 1946 with the rank of major. He has been connected with many Communist and left-wing periodicals and organizations and has written many articles and books on Communist issues.

Sukarno is famed around the world for his keen admiration of feminine beauty. Miss Monroe not only was in the reception line to meet the President of Indonesia but she had been carefully coached to give him a hearty welcome. At first she was equal to the occasion.

Vital Radio Channels

While the public has been watching the headlines on rigged TV shows, an important but less spectacular issue of public interest—radio—is before the Federal Communications Commission. It's the allocation of 23 clear channel radio licenses — perhaps the last which ever will be allocated in the USA. The FCC has given until November 20 for interested parties to file comments as to who should get these channels.

Chief question is whether these channels should go to schools and universities or to the already large number of commercial licensees now pouring disc jockey music out to the American people.

The National Association of Educational Broadcasters, meeting in Detroit last week, urged more use of radio and television for education. They pointed out that a recent survey by the U.S. Office of Education shows tremendous strides in education by Soviet Russia.

The educational broadcasters, led by William G. Harley of the University of Wisconsin, Jack McBride of the University of Nebraska, and Robert Coleman of Michigan State University,

Now and then, when sleep will not come, I switch on the brass tulip lights behind the headboard and grope for books on the little shelf behind the pillows. The light blinds me and I reach for an ashtray and a cigaret. Sometimes, unwittingly, a book on prayer drops into my hands and I flip the pages, half reading, half dreaming.

Prayer is our wireless set to God and the exquisite beauty of some prayers is so touching that the words stick in the throat and the head must turn away from them. Of them all, the one that never fails to move me is Elizabeth Barrett Browning's, written about 1840, about a dying baby:

Dear Lord, Dear Lord!
Thou, who didst not erst deny
The mother-joy to Mary mild,
Blessed in the blessed Child,
Which hearkened in meek
babyhood
Her cradle-hymn, albeit used
To all that music interfused
In breasts of angels high and good!
Oh, take not, Lord, my babe
away —
Oh, take not to Thy songful
heaven
The pretty baby Thou hast given,
Or ere that I have seen him
play
Around his father's knees, and known
That he knew how my love has gone
From all the world to him.
Think, God among the cherubim,
How I shall shiver every day
In Thy June sunshine, knowing where
The grave-grass keeps it from
his fair
Still cheeks! and feel, at every tread,
His little body which is dead
And hidden in the turly fold.
Doth make Thy whole warm
earth a-cold!
O God, I am so young, so young —
I am not used to tears at nights

There are many beautiful prayers. I remember all of those my mother taught me and I can recite them by rote. But this one digs deep no matter how many times I read it. The only words that surpass it in intensity are two from the Bible, perhaps the greatest two ever written: "Jesus wept." . . .

U.S. Alleged Spy

The world was mystified when the American Embassy security officer in Moscow, Russell Langelie, was suddenly ordered deported on the charge that he had tried to spy on Soviet Russia.

The American Embassy, in turn, charged that Langelie had been seized by a group of Russians, roughed up, held some time, and finally released. Neither of these was the correct story. Here is the inside story of what happened.

Langelie is an electronics expert whose job it was to make sure that the American Embassy in Moscow was not bugged or wiretapped by Soviet intelligence. The Russians have long been anxious to get hold of one of these experts. They want to know what devices the United States uses to safeguard its embassies abroad.

So, some months ago they approached Langelie about the idea of working as a spy for the USSR. Langelie promptly reported this to his superiors in the Embassy, who instructed him to play along with the Russians and see what happened. Langelie did. Plans were discussed whereby he was to come over to the Red side. But at the big meeting where the Russians expected Langelie to make the final jump, he told them he had changed his mind.

Soviet secret police agents were furious. They were so irate that they roughed up Langelie, even threatened to announce publicly that he was a secret Russian spy. Langelie stood his ground. Eventually the Russians gave up, turned him loose, but ordered him to leave Moscow on the excuse that he had been trying to enlist Russian spies to work for the USA.

The American Embassy naturally knew the real story. It supported Langelie.

Instead of slumber — not to prayer

With sobbing lips and hands outwring!

Thou knowest all my prayers were

'I bless thee, God, for past delights —

Thank God!' I am not used to bear

Hard thoughts of death. The earth doth cover

No face from me of friend or lover;

And must the first who teaches me

The form of shrouds and funerals, be Mine own first-born beloved? he

Who taught me first this mother-love?

Dear Lord, who spreadest out above

Thy loving, transpierced hands to meet

All lifted hearts with blessing sweet, —

Pierce not my heart, my tender heart

Thou madest tender! Thou who art

So happy in Thy heaven away,

Take not mine only bliss away!

I changed the cruel prayer I made,

And bowed my meekened face and prayed

That God would do His will! and thus

He did it, nurse; He parted us. And His sun shows victorious

The dead, calm face; — and I am calm;

Borrowing A Nose Tip From An Ear Lobe

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The human outer ear is undergoing regression.

So few of us wiggle the auricles, that the muscles have become atrophied and weak and we couldn't move them if we wanted to.

This is in contrast to lower animals. These structures have a definite function and perk up to determine the direction of sound. This is particularly true of dogs, rabbits, horses, and cows. Some animals can close the ear canal as a protection against the entry of water and insects. The auricle folds in to cover the opening.

What good are the ear lobes

in man except to support earrings (or disks in Africa)? A New Orleans plastic surgeon uses the lobe as a graft to fill in defects of the outer edge of the nostrils caused by injury.

The surgeon finds that the appearance of the ear is not altered appreciably. The reason is that the lobes usually are of unequal length and using the larger one for the donor improves the patient's appearance.

A group of Wisconsin plastic surgeons found that the ear lobe makes an excellent tip of the nose in correcting defects caused by injury or burns. The operation is simple and the color of the ear and nose skin matches perfectly.

Some persons are sensitive about protruding ears, especially when the auricle resembles a loving cup. This type of defect is correctable. In contrast, there is less sensitivity about the size of the ears; provided they are not too far out of proportion to the rest of the head.

Mr. Eisenhower did not go into details but reaffirmed a recent statement by the American government with reference to the Communist menace in Latin America. He said it was "a little bit puzzling" to him why this should occur in the face of the record of friendship of the United States for Panama. He might have added a reference also to the way the United States helped that country to gain independence.

Mr. Eisenhower probably didn't mean that he is in doubt about how such episodes arise, but that he is puzzled as to why governments let such things happen within their borders. The Communist technique is to seize upon any controversial question, no matter how long it has been dormant, in order to play upon the nationalistic feelings of the people.

What is puzzling is that the Communists get away with their infiltration tactics. Even the Communist Party in the United States, protected as it is by various decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, now boldly reveals its part in helping to stir up trouble inside this country not only in the ranks of labor but wherever the school "integration" problem and other questions affecting Negroes are raised.

The latest revelation comes from Herbert Apteker, an American citizen, who has just written for the Communist Party organ in Moscow a long article boasting about what the American Communist Party has done to further the objectives of Communism. Mr. Apteker testified before the Subversive Activities Control Board in 1949 as an expert on "Marxism-Leninism" and acknowledged at that time membership in the American Communist Party. In his article published in Moscow on October 17, Mr. Apteker gives a glowing description of how the Communist Party has recently gained new strength in the United States. He says this occurred after the defeat of what he calls "McCarthyism" — the party's "biggest opposition. He adds:

"After the 16th Congress (1957), the party began nursing its wounds and restoring its strength. The national committee plenum which took place in February 1958 was symptomatic in this respect. It insured the further rallying of the party on the basis of the principles of Marxism-Leninism. This permitted the overcoming of the paralysis which in the course of a number of months had been inhibiting the activities of the party. "Organizational activities received, the loss in the number of party members was made up, and a certain number of new members, particularly among the youth, was acquired. The party tackled educational work and the dissemination of Marxist literature.

"The most important thing was that the party resumed participation in mass work. This refers to the inter-trade union struggle, to a demonstration of jobless people that took place recently, to certain aspects of the struggle of the Negroes, particularly to the movement for integrated children's education in schools.

"The party plays a considerable role in the struggle against military preparations and the foreign policy of 'cold war.' It extends assistance to various mass anti-militaristic organizations and has begun developing a struggle for peace directly among the masses. In recent times, it has organized street meetings and large demonstrations in some very large cities."

This disclosure from the pen of a prominent American Communist may come as a surprise to those in this country who constantly pooh-pooh the threat of Communism and call Communism merely another political belief, but it doesn't surprise those in our government who have been watching the activities of the Communist apparatus at close range. Organizing street demonstrations, whether in Little Rock or Chicago, or creating a flag incident in Panama City or West Berlin isn't anything unusual for the Communists to do, and they have a technique of infiltrating existing organizations to stir them to outbursts of various kinds.

Incidentally, Herbert Apteker, who wrote the article for the Communist organ in Moscow, was born in the United States of Russian-born parents and was educated at Columbia University, where he received a Ph.D. degree in 1943. He has testified that he joined the Communist Party in about 1939. He became a captain in the Counter-Intelligence Corps of the U. S. Army in 1944 and was relieved of active duty in 1946 with the rank of major. He has been connected with many Communist and left-wing periodicals and organizations and has written many articles and books on Communist issues.

CHANGE OF WEATHER

F.A. writes: I belong to that group of nervous people who get headaches and feel drowsy any time a storm comes on. Is there any remedy for this unpleasant condition?

REPLY

We can't change the weather but proper air conditioning may solve your problem if it is practical and within your budget. You must get some satisfaction from knowing why you feel the way you do; many times we cannot find an explanation for the blues.

HAIR AND ALCOHOLISM

R. S. writes: I read that men with a minimum of hair on the body and a heavy growth on the scalp are more prone to alcoholism. Is this statement authoritative?

REPLY

No. Many men with cirrhosis of the liver from drinking have little or no hair on the chest. The exact relationship between the two is not known but there is no connection with alcoholism.

Philippine Election Tomorrow Shows True Democratic Spirit

By Drew Pearson

become more important as a greeter of official dignitaries than Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles or Ambassador Dick Patterson in New York.

Though her welcome to Nikita Khrushchev was well publicized, her welcome to President Sukarno of Indonesia failed to hit the headlines.

Sukarno is famed around the world for his keen admiration of feminine beauty. Miss Monroe not only was in the reception line to meet the President of Indonesia but she had been carefully coached to give him a hearty welcome. At first she was equal to the occasion.

Throwing her arms around President Sukarno she exclaimed:

"I'm so pleased to meet the President of India."

"I'm the President of Indonesia," prompted President Sukarno.

"Never heard of it," said the frank Marilyn.

A friendship thereupon ended before it began.

Vital Radio Channels

While the public has been watching the headlines on rigged TV shows, an important but less spectacular issue of public interest—radio—is before the Federal Communications Commission. It's the allocation of 23 clear channel radio licenses — perhaps the last which ever will be allocated in the USA. The FCC has given until November 20 for interested parties to file comments as to who should get these channels.

Chief question is whether these channels should go to schools and universities or to the already large number of commercial licensees now pouring disc jockey music out to the American people.

The National Association of Educational Broadcasters, meeting in Detroit last week, urged more use of radio and television for education. They pointed out that a recent survey by the U.S. Office of Education shows tremendous strides in education by Soviet Russia.

The educational broadcasters, led by William G. Harley of the University of Wisconsin, Jack McBride of the University of Nebraska, and Robert Coleman of Michigan State University, have worked out a plan for university television for Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Kentucky, by which an airplane, circling overhead, will broadcast through high-powered TV equipment. The Ford Foundation is making this possible.

Congressmen are watching the allocation of these 23 remaining clear radio channels for a clue as to whether the FCC really plans to enforce the public interest statute in the Communications Act.

U.S. Alleged Spy

The world was mystified when the American Embassy security officer in Moscow, Russell Langelle, was suddenly ordered deported on the charge that he had tried to spy on Soviet Russia.

The American Embassy, in turn, charged that Langelle had been seized by a group of Russians, roughed up, held some time, and finally released. Neither of these was the correct story. Here is the inside story of what happened.

Langelle is an electronics expert whose job it was to make sure that the American Embassy in Moscow was not bugged or wiretapped by Soviet intelligence. The Russians have long been anxious to get hold of one of these experts. They want to know what devices the United States uses to safeguard its embassies abroad.

So, some months ago they approached Langelle about the idea of working as a spy for the USSR. Langelle promptly reported this to his superiors in the Embassy, who instructed him to play along with the Russians and see what happened. Langelle did. Plans were discussed whereby he was to come over to the Red side. But at the big meeting where the Russians expected Langelle to make the final jump, he told them he had changed his mind.

Soviet secret police agents were furious. They were so irate that they roughed up Langelle, even threatened to announce publicly that he was a secret Russian spy. Langelle stood his ground. Eventually the Russians gave up, turned him loose, but ordered him to leave Moscow on the excuse that he had been trying to enlist Russian spies to work for the USA.

The American Embassy naturally knew the real story. It supported Langelle.

Now and then, when sleep will not come, I switch on the brass tulip lights behind the headboard and grope for books on the little shelf behind the pillows. The light blinds me and I reach for an ashtray and a cigarette. Sometimes, unwittingly, a book on prayer drops into my hands and I flip the pages, half reading, half dreaming.

Prayer is our wireless set to God and the exquisite beauty of some prayers is so touching that the words stick in the throat and the head must turn away from them. Of them all, the one that never fails to move me is Elizabeth Barrett Browning's, written about 1840, about a dying baby:

Dear Lord, Dear Lord
Thou, who didst not erst deny
The mother-joy to Mary mild,
Blessed in the blessed Child,
Which hearkened in meek
babyhood

Her cradle-hymn, albeit used
To all that music interused
In breasts of angels high and good!

Oh, take not, Lord, my babe
away —
heaven

The pretty baby "thou hast given,
Or ere that I have seen him
play
known

gone
From all the world to him.
Think, God among the cher-ubim,

where
The grave-grass keeps it from
his fair

Still cheeks! and feel, at every tread,
His little body which is dead
And hidden in the turfy fold.
Doth make Thy whole warm
earth a-cold!

young —
I am not used to tears at nights

Instead of slumber — not to prayer

With sobbing lips and hands outwring!
Thou knowest all my prayers were

'I bless thee, God, for past delights —
Thank God!' I am not used to bear

Hard thoughts of death. The earth doth cover
No face from me of friend or lover;

And must the first who teaches me
The form of shrouds and funerals, be

Mine own first-born beloved?
he
Who taught me first this mother-love?

Dear Lord, who spreadest out above
Thy loving, transpierced hands to meet

All lifted hearts with blessing sweet, —
Pierce not my heart, my tender heart

Thou madest tender! Thou who art
So happy in mine bliss away,
Take not Thy only heaven!

I changed the cruel prayer I made,
And bowed my meekened face and prayed

That God would do His will!
and thus
He did it, nurse; He parted us,

The dead, calm face; — and I am calm;
And heaven is harkening a new psalm.

There are many beautiful prayers. I remember all of those my mother taught me and I can recite them by rote. But this one digs deep no matter how many times I read it. The only words that surpass it in intensity are two from the Bible, perhaps the greatest two ever written: "Jesus wept."

Senator Aiken says Nixon is "far more liberal than some of his most ardent supporters."

Well, if they're ardent, that's liberal enough.

Senator Aiken says "it could be a very close fight" if Nixon and Rockefeller become active candidates. If they become any more active, it could be an actual fight.

Wisconsin has a new law requiring 30-day county residence for marriage, and a 60-day cooling-off period for divorce action.

If that doesn't help, they might try the other way around.

Borrowing A Nose Tip From An Ear Lobe

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The human outer ear is undergoing regression.

So few of us wiggle the auricles, that the muscles have become atrophied and weak and we couldn't move them if we wanted to.

This is in contrast to lower animals. These structures have a definite function and perk up to determine the direction of sound. This is particularly true of dogs, rabbits, horses, and cows. Some animals can close the ear canal as a protection against the entry of water and insects. The auricle folds in to cover the opening.

What good are the ear lobes

in man except to support ear-rings (or disks in Africa)? A New Orleans plastic surgeon uses the lobe as a graft to fill in defects of the outer edge of the nostrils caused by injury.

The surgeon finds that the appearance of the ear is not altered appreciably. The reason is that the lobes usually are of unequal length and using the larger one for the donor improves the patient's appearance.

A group of Wisconsin plastic surgeons found that the ear lobe makes an excellent tip of the nose in correcting defects caused by injury or burns. The operation is simple and the color of the ear and nose skin matches perfectly.

Some persons are sensitive about protruding ears, especially when the auricle resembles a loving cup. This type of defect is correctable. In contrast, there is less sensitivity about the size of the ears, provided they are not too far out of proportion to the rest of the head.

Sam Baker's 46-Yard Field Goal Spills Colts, 27-24

Tom Braatz's Interception Sets Up Score

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sam Baker booted the Washington Redskins to a 27-24 upset of the Baltimore Colts Sunday on a 46-yard field goal with 12 seconds left.

Baker's goal, his second of the game, washed out a determined Colt comeback engineered by Johnny Unitas and Lenny Moore that tied the National Football League rivals at 24-all with 2:15 showing on the clock.

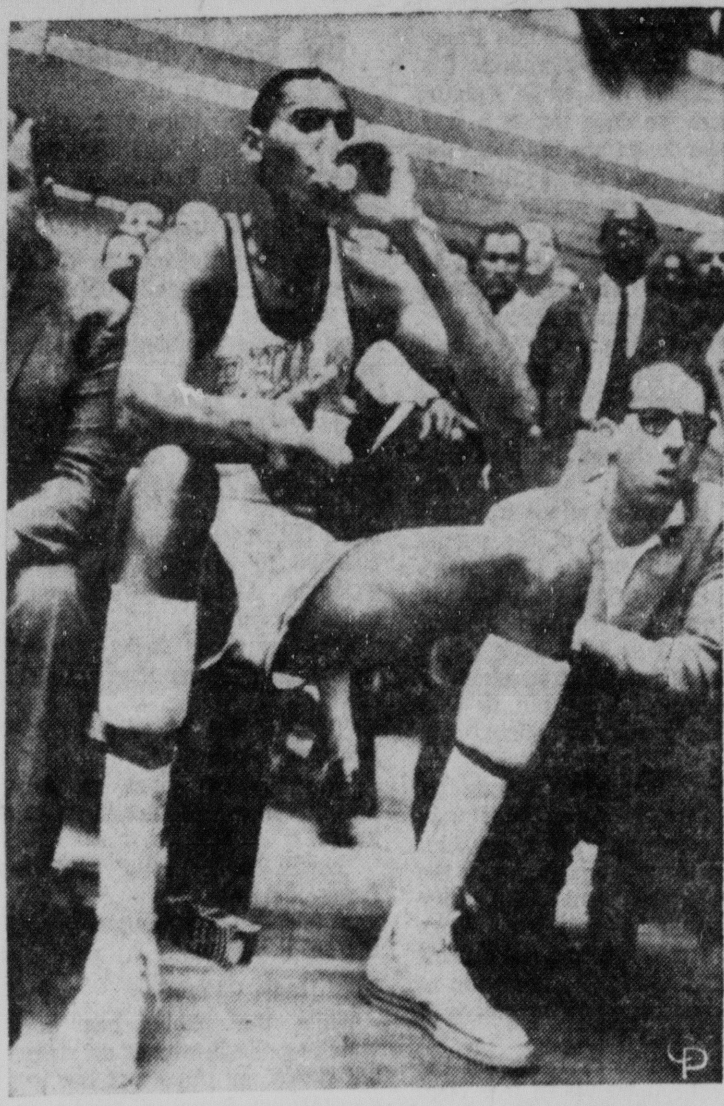

Eddie Le Baron, the Redskins' runty quarterback, had passed the 10-point underdogs to a NFL edge over the defending 103 champion Colts early in the second half. And each time Baltimore rallied to even things up, Le Baron pitched the 'Skins ahead again, connecting with Joe Walton and Bill Anderson in the end zone. The Anderson catch on a 17-yarder put Washington ahead 24-17 with 3:40 remaining.

Unitas already had thrown two touchdowns passes to Jim Mutscheller to score by air in his 32nd consecutive game. Now he tossed 18 yards to Raymond Berry after the kickoff, then hit Lenny Moore at midfield and Mutscheller on the Redskins 12.

On the next play Unitas pitched out to Moore, who flipped to rookie Jerry Richardson. Steve Myhra's conversion made it 24-24 and Baltimore, second place club in the NFL's Western Conference, appeared to have achieved a face-saving tie.

32.773 See Battle

Washington couldn't gain after the kickoff and Baker punted to the Colt 38. Unitas missed on two passes and Tom Braatz grabbed a deflected pass at midfield and returned to the Baltimore 38. With Le Baron holding, Baker kicked the most important goal of his career.

Fort Hill, Keyser, Moorefield Win Saturday Football Games

Potomac Triumphs, West Virginia Deaf Finishes Unbeaten

Fort Hill's Sentinels extended their unbeaten string to 28 games by defeating South Hagerstown's Rebels in the Hub City Saturday night by the score of 30-20 and clung to the leadership of the Cumberland Valley League with a 4-0-1 record with only one game remaining on their schedule.

In other Saturday games, Moorefield High's Yellowjackets celebrated homecoming day by whipping LaSalle's Explorers, 17-0, unbeaten and untied Keyser High School reeled off its eighth victory at the expense of the Pioneers of Romney High School, 32-0. West Virginia School for the Deaf, of Mt. Airy, and Charles Town High, which meets Keyser Nov. 20, made it eight wins in a row by trimming Harpers Ferry, 49-12.

On the collegiate front, Coach Dana "Horse" Lough's Potomac State College Catamounts closed its West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference schedule with a 3-3 record by beating the Mountain Lions of Concord College at Athens, 14-6, and Jesse Riggelman's Shepherd College Rams lowered the curtain with a 4-4 mark by walloping Bridgewater, Va., College, 36-0.

Helmick Gets Pair

In the game at Hagerstown, the Rebels battled Fort Hill to a 14-14 draw in the first half. The Sentinels took the lead on a safety in the third period and sewed up the decision by scoring a pair of touchdowns in the final quarter.

Delbert Helmick accounted for two of Fort Hill's four touchdowns. Bill Sheetz and Bob Shevbridge made the other TDs. Dave Houser booted the four extra points. Bill Sheetz tackled Jeskie in the end zone for Fort Hill's safety.

Jim Baker scored twice for the Rebels while the other six-pointer was made by Virgil Nixon. Fred Martin scored two extra points via placements.

South High collected 13 first downs to Fort Hill's nine. The Sentinels gained 211 yards on the ground and completed five of nine aeriels for 122 yards. The Rebels picked up 183 yards rushing and 93 in the air by completing five of 13 passes.

Jackets Bag Eighth

Billy Sherman scored a pair of touchdowns in Moorefield's victory over LaSalle. Tom Heiner kicked a field goal and the Yellowjackets of Coach George Hott also added a safety and LaSalle suffered its fifth shutout and seventh defeat against one victory.

Moorefield, which closes its season at Beall, Saturday, notched its eighth victory in nine outings.

Keyser Extends String

Keyser posted its sixth shutout win of the campaign and reeled off its 31st consecutive P.V.C. winning in downing Romney for the sixth straight year. It was Keyser's 13th win in a row over two seasons.

Gary Keedy took over the P.V.C. scoring leadership by registering two of the Golden Tornado's five touchdowns. Fred Clark, Francis Sidley and John Barger accounted for the other six-pointers. Sidley made two conversions.

West Virginia School for the Deaf wound up its second straight season without a defeat in battling Mt. Airy to a scoreless tie. The Lions were 8-0 in 1958 and 6-0-2 this season.

Fernandez Scores Twice

career and Redskins partisans among the sellout crowd of 32,773 nearly shook down the wooden stands of their cheering section.

Myhra put the Colts ahead early with a 21-yard field goal. Le Baron's TD losses reached Walton for 19 yards in the second period and Anderson for 17 in the last. Earlier in the final period LeBaron baffled the Colts with a pitchout to Ed Sutton and the Redskins halfback passed 22 to Walton in the corner of the end zone.

Baltimore now is 4-3 for the season and the Redskins, struggling out of the Eastern Conference basement, are 3-4.

Completes 16 of 32 Passes

Le Baron, who had only two scoring passes to his credit for the season until today, completed 16 of 32 aerial attempts for 206 yards. Unitas connected on 15 of 35 for 264. Johnny's two scoring tosses gave him 19 for the fall, far ahead of other NFL quarterbacks.

The chilly day thriller was almost wholly an overhead game as the Colts' mammoth line stopped Washington's ground attack with 56 yards. Baltimore gained only 96 rushing.

LeBaron engineered a 77-yard, nine-play scoring drive to shoot the Redskins ahead 7-3 with his 19-yarder to Walton on the second play of the second quarter. Eddie completed five for five enroute.

Baker's 42-yard field goal in the third period gained a 10-3 margin, but then Unitas went to work. He moved the Colts 80 yards in 13 plays — the crucial one an 11-yard completion to Mutscheller on 3rd down with 9 to go from the Washington 47.

Mutscheller outran Ben Scotti for the score which with Myhra's conversion made it 10-10 in the third quarter.

Washington traveled 54 yards in six thrusts, mainly Le Baron's passes, and went up 17-10 on Sutton's surprise to Walton early in the fourth.

Colts Tie At 17-17

The Colts needed only five plays to pull back to 17-17. Moore caught a short pass from Unitas, ducked Scotti and made it a 66-yard gain before he was nailed by Gary Glick on the Washington 9. After two rushes, Unitas found Mutscheller all alone behind the goal posts.

Then came the thrills, with Le Baron steering Washington ahead 24-17, Unitas, with Moore's help, squaring it and Braatz intercepting for Baker's monumental kick. Baltimore 30 7 14-24 Washington 0 7 3 17-27

Cleveland Takes Over 2nd Place

Down Eagles, 28-7, Plum, Brown Star

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Milt Plum's passing and Jim Brown's power pushed Cleveland into second place in the National Football League's Eastern Conference Sunday as the Browns defeated Philadelphia 28-7.

Plum completed 12 of 20 passes for 146 yards and one touchdown. Brown ate up 125 yards in 29 rushes and scored twice, running his season total to 10 TD's.

The Browns had to stave off several last-half thrusts by the Eagles as Norm Van Brocklin went on a passing spree and completed 23 of 40 for 260 yards and the lone Philadelphia touchdown.

The scoring march covered 94 yards in 11 plays, with Van Brocklin hitting Billy Barnes in the end zone with a four-yard scoring toss.

The Browns wheeled away to a 21-0 edge in the first half, going 87 yards in 10 plays with Brown blasting 20 yards for the first touchdown. Two minutes later Walt Michaels recovered a fumble, and the Browns went 54 yards in eight plays, with Brown zooming in from the one. A 56-yard drive, featured by Plum's 29-29-yard pass to Billy Howton wound up with Ray Renfro catching a four-yard pass for the score.

Behind 21-0, the Eagles finally began to move, and as the first half closed they had marched 60 yards to the Browns' nine only to have Junior Wren intercept a pass in the end zone.

Except for a 65-yard scoring jaunt around left end by Bobby Mitchell the last half belonged to Philadelphia, as the Browns were held to three first downs.

Mountaineers Lose 36-0 On West Coast

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—

West Virginia, which ran into heat, size and depth in the 36-0 loss at Southern California, returns to the cooler climate of Morgantown Saturday for a Southern Conference game with dangerous Virginia Tech.

"They just wore us out in the heat with their size and depth," WVU Coach Art Lewis said in recounting the game with Southern Cal at Los Angeles.

"Our biggest trouble came in trying to contain them outside," the Mountaineer mentor said. "They took full advantage of the fact we had five sophomores playing the ends. We sure could have used Ben McComb in there."

McComb, senior end, regular halfback Johnny Marra and second string center Charley Lanasa didn't make the West Coast trip because of injuries.

WVU edged VPI 21-20 last year on a disputed extra point play. The Mountaineers will carry into the contest a conference winning streak of 30 straight games. Not since losing to Furman, 22-14 in the opener of the 1952 campaign have the Mountaineers fallen before a league foe.

VPI, currently on a four-game winning streak, will bring a 5-3 record to Morgantown.

Layne's TD Pass Saves Pittsburgh

By JOE BRADIS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bobby Layne, battered and frustrated for three quarters, hit Tom Tracy with a 20-yard touchdown pass in the final period Sunday to earn the Pittsburgh Steelers a 10-10 tie with the Detroit Lions in a National Football League game.

Layne, who kicked a 29-yard field goal in the third quarter, found Tracy alone in the end zone with only 3 minutes and 25 seconds left. The scoring heave climaxed a 75-yard drive. Layne also kicked the conversion.

Detroit scored a touchdown on a 73-yard drive after the opening kickoff and got a 17-yard field goal by Jim Martin in the final period.

It took the Lions just eight plays to score the touchdown with Tobin Rote plunging one yard for the six points, Terry Barr's 37-yard run on a reverse from Rote was the key play.

Martin kicked his field goal after Yale Larry recovered a fumble by Tom Barnett on the Steeler 16.

Pat Summerall Kicks Three, New Yorkers Protect Slim Lead

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Pat Summerall booted three field goals—kicks of 37, 49 and 20 yards—to account for all of New York's points as the Eastern Conference leading Giants defeated the Chicago Cardinals 9-3 Sunday. It was the Giants' sixth victory in seven games and protected their one-game lead over Cleveland.

A whopping Yankee Stadium crowd of 56,779 was treated to another brilliant exhibition by the Giants' tremendous defensive unit which four times halted Cardinal touchdown drives, three times inside New York's 20.

The only Chicago score came in the second period when the Cardinals, with a first down on New York's 17 as a result of John Crow's first of two 73-yard gallops, were forced to settle for a field goal. Bobby Conrad kicked the three-pointer, a 25-yarder, to boost his season point total to 53, third straight loss for the once Summarall got his field goals in the first, third and fourth periods. He missed a 48-yard attempt in the opening quarter, giving him a season's total of 10 field goals in 16 attempts. His 49-yarder, third of such distance this season, came at 6:50 of the third period, breaking a 3-3 tie. The 29-year-old second from Arkansas was just getting ready to try for his fourth field goal from the 30, when the gun ended the game.

Forty Niners Defeat Rams Before 94,376

Woodson Returns Kickoff 105 Yards In 24-16 Battle

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Speedy Abe Woodson crushed the Los Angeles Rams with a 105-yard return of a kickoff that gave the San Francisco 49ers a 24-16 victory Sunday in Memorial Coliseum.

The sensational run, unreeled before a whopping crowd of 94,376, came in the third quarter when the Rams had charged perilously close to trail at that point by only 7 points, 17-10.

The win kept the surprising 49ers firmly on top of the Western Division of the National Football League with six victories and one lone defeat. It marked the third straight loss for the once flashy Rams, who now have a 2-5 record.

Veteran quarterback Y.A. Tittle opened the scoring with a 57-yard pass to one of his crack receivers, Billy Wilson, in the first quarter of such distance this season, ter.

The 49ers added another touchdown and a field goal in the second period while the Rams scored with one field goal, to trail 17-3 at the half.

Frank Ryan, a sophomore in pro football from Rice Institute, took over for Billy Wade late in the second quarter and steered the Rams 92 yards in 8 plays in the third quarter to narrow the gap. Ollie Matson highlighted the march with a 46-yard run to the 49er 17 and scored with a plunge for the final one yard.

Woodson quickly nullified the threat on the ensuing kickoff. The NFL record for a kickoff return is 106 yards by Al Carmichael for Green Bay against Detroit in 1956.

Sam Snead, Boros, Thomas Shoot 68s

BORREGO SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Three Ryder Cup golfers—Sam Snead and Julius Boros of the United States and Dave Thomas of Great Britain—each scored a four-under-par 68 at the De Anza Desert Country Club Sunday to top a select field of 25 pros in a $7,300 pro-amateur tournament.

The competitors toured the 6,865-yard course in perfect weather. Among them were 18 members of the U.S. and British Ryder Cup teams. The United States won 8 1/2-3 1/2 in the Ryder cup matches Saturday at nearby Eldorado Country Club, Palm Desert.

Snead picked up four birdies on the par 36-36-72 layout. He and Thomas both carded 35-33-68. Boros, who fired 33-35-68, blew a chance for undisputed first place when he missed an 18-inch putt on the final green.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears converted two Green Bay fumbles into touchdowns in the first quarter Sunday, held the Packers on the one yard line twice in the last half and built up a 28-17 victory.

The triumph, before 46,205 Wrigley Field fans, left the Bears with a 3-4 mark in the National Football League and dropped the Packers to the same level with their fourth straight setback.

Paul Hornung fumbled away the ball twice in the opening quarter as the Bears went ahead to stay. Joe Fortunato pounced on the first fumble on the Packer 12 and in two plays Merrill Douglas barreled across from the 7 with only 1:21 gone on the clock.

John Aveni booted the first of his four extra points.

Later Hornung lost the ball again and Charlie Sumner bogged it up, returning 6 yards to the Green Bay 38. Ten plays later, Rick Casares drilled over from the 5.

Lamar McHan's flat pass to Don McIlhenny was good for 30 yards in setting up Green Bay's first touchdown. At the outset of the second period, the Packers capped a 66-yard drive in 8 plays with Jim Taylor scoring from the 10. Hornung converted and later added a 27-yard field goal.

The Bears made it 21-10 at half time on Ed Brown's perfect 36-yard toss to Harlon Hill in the end zone. It ended a 77-yard thrust that started on J.C. Caroline's steal of McHan's pass.

Warriors Trim Cincy, 134-106

Wilt Chamberlain Scores 32 Points

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) —

Sparked by veterans Tom Gola and Paul Arizin and rookie Wilt Chamberlain, the Philadelphia Warriors trounced Cincinnati Sunday 134-106 in a televised NBA game at Convention Hall.

Coach Neil Johnston used his bench liberally as the Warriors rolled to a 67-46 lead at half time and coasted to their fourth victory against one defeat, that inflicted Saturday night by unbeaten Boston.

Cincinnati moved out to an 18-12 lead midway in the first period as the Warriors were slow starting, especially Chamberlain who went without a field goal in the quarter. Then the winners exploded.

After the Royals took a 30-27 edge, the Warriors retaliated with nine straight points and Cincinnati never threatened again.

A later 11-point outburst pushed the Warriors bulge to 57-39 and the subs came in. Gola, Arizin and Chamberlain did the important rebounding and shooting in Philadelphia's spree.

Wilt dunked in 32 points and grabbed 35 rebounds. Arizin was next with 25 points while Gola added 20. Jack Twyman was high for the losers with 21 points.

Sam Baker's 46-Yard Field Goal Spills Colts, 27-24

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sam Baker booted the Washington Redskins to a 27-24 upset of the Baltimore Colts Sunday on a 46-yard field goal with 12 seconds left. Baker's goal, his second of the game, washed out a determined Colt comeback engineered by Johnny Unitas and Lenny Moore that tied the National Football League rivals at 24-all with 2:15 showing on the clock. Eddie Le Baron, the Redskins' runty quarterback, had passed the 10-point underdogs to a 10-3 edge over the defending NFL champion Colts early in the second half. And each time Baltimore rallied to even things up, Le Baron pitched the 'Skins ahead again, connecting with Joe Walton and Bill Anderson in the end zone. The Anderson catch on a 17-yard put Washington ahead 24-17 with 3:40 remaining.

Unitas already had thrown two touchdowns passes to Jim Mutscheller to score by air in his 32nd consecutive game. Now he tossed 18 yards to Raymond Berry after the kickoff, then hit Lenny Moore at midfield and Mutscheller on the Redskins 12. On the next play Unitas pitched out to Moore, who flipped to rookie Jerry Richardson. Steve Myhra's conversion made it 24-24 and Baltimore, second place club in the NFL's Western Conference, appeared to have achieved a face-saving tie.

32.773 See Battle
Washington couldn't gain after the kickoff and Baker missed on the 38. Unitas punted to two passes and Tom Braatz grabbed a deflected pass at midfield and returned to the Baltimore 38. With Le Baron holding, Baker kicked the most important goal of his career.

career and Redskins pass among the sellout crowd of 32,773 nearly shook down the wooden stands of their cheering section. Myhra put the Colts ahead early with a 21-yard field goal. Le Baron's TD tosses reached Walton for 19 yards in the second period and Anderson for 17 in the last. Earlier in the final period LeBaron baffled the Colts with a pitchout to Ed Sutton and the Redskins cornerback passed 22 to Walton in the corner of the end zone. Baltimore now is 4-3 for the season and the Redskins, struggling out of the Eastern Conference basement, are 3-4. Complete 16 of 32 Passes
Le Baron, who had only two scoring passes to his credit for the season until today, completed 16 of 32 aerial attempts for 206 yards. Unitas connected on 15 of 35 for 264. Johnny's two scoring tosses gave him 19 for the fall, far ahead of other NFL quarterbacks.

The chilly day thriller was almost wholly an overhead game as the Colts' manmouth line stopped Washington's ground attack with 96 yards. Baltimore gained only 56 rushing. LeBaron engineered a 77-yard, nine-play scoring drive to shoot the Redskins ahead 7-3 with his 19-yarder to Walton on the second play of the second quarter. Eddie completed five for five en route.

Baker's 42-yard field goal in the third period gained a 10-3 margin, but then Unitas went to work. He moved the Colts 80 yards in 13 plays — the crucial one an 11-yard completion to Mutscheller on 3rd down with 9 to go from the Washington 47.

Mutscheller outran Ben Scotti for the score which with Myhra's conversion made it 10-10 in the third quarter.

Washington trailed 54 yards in six thrusts, mainly Le Baron's passes, and went up 17-10 on Sutton's surprise to Walton early in the fourth.

Colts Tie At 17-17
The Colts needed only five plays to pull back to 17-17. Moore caught a short pass from Unitas, ducked Scotti and made it a 66-yard gain before he was nailed by Gary Glick on the Washington 9. After two rushes, Unitas found Mutscheller all alone behind the goal posts.

Then came the thrills, with Le Baron steering Washington ahead 24-17, Unitas, with Moore's help, squaring it and Braatz intercepting for Baker's monumental kick.

Fort Hill, Keyser, Moorefield Win Saturday Football Games

Potomac Triumphs, West Virginia Deaf Finishes Unbeaten

Fort Hill's Sentinels extended their unbeaten string to 28 games by defeating South Hagerstown's Rebels in the Hub City Saturday night by the score of 30-20 and clung to the leadership of the Cumberland Valley League with a 4-0 record with only one game remaining on their schedule.

In other Saturday games, Moorefield High's Yellowjackets celebrated homecoming day by whipping LaSalle's Explorers, 17-0, unbeaten and untied Keyser High School reeled off its eighth victory at the expense of the Pioneers of Romney High School, 32-0, West Virginia School for the Deaf was held to a scoreless tie by the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf, of Mt. Airy, and Charles Town High, which meets Keyser Nov. 20, made it eight wins in a row by trimming Harpers Ferry, 49-12.

On the collegiate front, Coach Dana "Horse" Lough's Potomac State College Catamounts closed its West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference schedule with a 3-3 record by beating the Mountain Lions of Concord College at Athens, 14-6, and Jesse Riggelman's Shepherd College Rams lowered the curtain with a 4-4 mark by walloping Bridgewater, Va., College, 36-0.

Helmick Gets Pair

In the game at Hagerstown, the Rebels battled Fort Hill to a 14-14 draw in the first half. The Sentinels took the lead on a safety in the third period and sewed up the decision by scoring a pair of touchdowns in the final quarter.

Delbert Helmick accounted for two of Fort Hill's four touchdowns. Bill Sheetz and Bob Shewbridge made the other TDs. Dave Browder booted the three extra points. Bill Sheetz tackled Jeskie in the end zone for Fort Hill's safety.

Jim Baker scored twice for the Rebels while the other six-pointer was made by Virgil Nixon. Fred Martin scored two extra points via placements.

South High collected 13 first downs to Fort Hill's nine. The Sentinels gained 211 yards on the ground and completed five of nine aerials for 122 yards. The Rebels picked up 183 yards rushing and 93 in the air by completing five of 13 passes.

Jackets Bag Eighth

Billy Sherman scored a pair of touchdowns in Moorefield's victory over LaSalle. Tom Heffner kicked a field goal and the Yellowjackets of Coach George Hott also added a safety and LaSalle suffered its fifth shutout and seventh defeat against one victory.

Moorefield, which closes its season at Beall, Saturday, notched its eighth victory in nine outings.

Keyser Extends String

Keyser posted its sixth shutout win of the campaign and reeled off its 31st consecutive P.V.C. winning in downing Romney for the sixth straight year. It was Keyser's 13th win in a row over two seasons.

Gary Keedy took over the PVC scoring leadership by registering two of the Golden Tornado's five touchdowns. Fred Clark, Francis Sidley and John Barger accounted for the other six-pointers. Sidley made two conversions.

West Virginia School for the Deaf wound up its second straight defeat without a defeat in battling Mt. Airy to a scoreless tie. The Lions were 8-0 in 1958 and 6-0-2 this season.

Fernandez Scores Twice

Halfback Sam Fernandez scored both Potomac State touchdowns in the Catamounts' win over Concord. Joe Ed Phillips punched his way across the field in the final minutes to keep the Mountain Lions from being shut out. The 5-3 gave "Horse" Lough's team a win over record with one game left to play at Baltimore Junior College this weekend.

Cleveland Takes Over 2nd Place

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Milt Plum's passing and Jim Brown's power pushed Cleveland into second place in the National Football League's Eastern Conference Sunday as the Browns defeated Philadelphia 28-7.

Plum completed 12 of 20 passes for 146 yards and one touchdown. Brown ate up 125 yards in 29 rushes and scored twice, running his season total to 10 TD's.

The Browns had to stave off several last-half thrusts by the Eagles as Norm Van Brocklin went on a passing spree and completed 23 of 40 for 260 yards and the lone Philadelphia touchdown.

The scoring march covered 94 yards in 11 plays, with Van Brocklin hitting Billy Barnes in the end zone with a four-yard scoring toss.

The Browns wheeled away to a 21-0 edge in the first half, going 87 yards in 10 plays with Brown blasting 20 yards for the first touchdown. Two minutes later Walt Michaels recovered a fumble, and the Browns went 54 yards in eight plays, with Brown zooming in from the one. A 56-yard drive, featured by Plum's 29-29-yard pass to Billy Howton wound up with Ray Renfro catching a four-yard pass for the score.

Behind 21-0, the Eagles finally began to move, and as the first half closed they had marched 60 yards to the Browns' nine only to have Junior Wren intercept a pass in the end zone.

Except for a 65-yard scoring jaunt around left end by Bobby Mitchell the last half belonged to Philadelphia, as the Browns were held to three first downs.

Bears Defeat Packers, 28-17

Green Bay Fumbles Produce Two Scores

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears converted two Green Bay fumbles into touchdowns in the first quarter Sunday, held the Packers on the one yard line twice in the last half and built up a 28-17 victory.

The triumph, before 46,205 Wrigley Field fans, left the Bears with a 3-4 mark in the National Football League and dropped the Packers to the same level with their fourth straight setback.

Paul Hornung fumbled away the ball in the opening quarter as the Bears went ahead to stay. Joe Fortunato pounced on the first fumble on the Packers 12 and in two plays Merrill Douglas kept the Bears from being shut out.

John Aveni blocked the first of his four extra points.

Later Hornung lost the ball again and Charlie Sumner bogged it up, returning 6 yards to the Green Bay 38. Ten plays later, Rick Casares drilled over from the 5.

Lamar McHan's flat pass to Don McIlhenny was good for 30 yards in setting up Green Bay's first touchdown. On the outset of the second period, the Packers capped a 66-yard drive in 8 plays with Jim Taylor scoring from the 10. Hornung converted and later added a 27-yard field goal.

The Bears made it 21-10 at half time on Ed Brown's perfect 36-yard toss to Harlon Hill in the end zone. It ended a 77-yard thrust that started on J.C. Caroline's steal of McHan's pass.

Virginia Tech, West Virginia Play Saturday

Mountaineers Lose 36-0 On West Coast

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP) — West Virginia, which ran into heat, size and depth in the 36-0 loss at Southern California, returns to the cooler climate of Morgantown Saturday for a Southern Conference game with dangerous Virginia Tech.

"They just wore us out in the heat with their size and depth," WVU Coach Art Lewis said in recounting the game with Southern Cal at Los Angeles.

"Our biggest trouble came in trying to contain them outside," the Mountaineer mentor said. "They took full advantage of the fact we had five sophomores playing the ends. We sure could have used Ben McComb in there."

McComb, senior end, regular halfback Johnny Marra and second string center Charley Lanasa didn't make the West Coast trip because of injuries.

WVU edged VPI 21-20 last year on a disputed extra point play. The Mountaineers will carry into the contest a conference winning streak of 30 straight games. Not since losing to Furman, 22-14 in the opener of the 1952 campaign have the Mountaineers fallen before a league foe.

VPI, currently on a four-game winning streak, will bring a 5-3 record to Morgantown.

Sam Snead, Boros, Thomas Shoot 68s

BORREGO SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Three Ryder Cup golfers — Sam Snead and Julius Boros of the United States and Dave Thomas of Great Britain — each scored a four-under par 68 at the De Anza Desert Country Club Sunday to top a select field of 25 pros in a $7,300 pro-amateur tournament.

The competitors toured the 6,865-yard course in perfect weather. Among them were 18 members of the U.S. and British Ryder Cup teams. The United States won 8½-3½ in the Ryder cup matches Saturday at nearby El Dorado Country Club, Palm Desert.

Snead picked up four birdies on the par 36-372 layout. He and Thomas both carded 35-33-68. Boros, who fired 33-35-68, blew a chance for undisputed first place when he missed an 18-inch putt on the final green.

26 College Teams Unbeaten, Untied

NEW YORK (UPI) — Syracuse, Texas, Southern California and North Texas State are the only remaining major college football powers left Sunday on the roster of unbeaten and untied teams.

Twenty-two small college teams also retained their perfect records for a grand total of 26 major and small college spotless teams in the country.

The major colleges bounced from the list Saturday were Louisiana State, Northwestern and Penn State. Tennessee ended L.S.U.'s 19-game winning streak, 14-13. Wisconsin beat Northwestern, 24-19, and Syracuse defeated Penn State, 20-18. Texas edged Baylor, 13-12. Southern California whipped West Virginia, 36-0 and North Texas State beat Louisville, 39-7.

Coe (Iowa) and Fairmont (W. Va.) have completed their seasons.

Giants Top Cardinals, 9-3, In Battle Of Field Goals

Layne's TD Pass Saves Pittsburgh

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Pat Summerall booted three field goals—kicks of 37, 49 and 20 yards—to account for all of New York's points as the Eastern Conference leading Giants defeated the Chicago Cardinals 9-3 Sunday. It was the Giants' sixth victory in seven games and protected their one-game lead over Cleveland.

A whopping Yankee Stadium crowd of 56,779 was treated to another brilliant exhibition by the Giants' tremendous defensive unit, which four times halted Cardinal touchdown drives, three times inside New York's 20.

The only Chicago score came in the second period when the Cardinals, with a first down on New York's 17 as a result of John York's first of two 73-yard gallops, were forced to settle for a field goal. Bobby Conrad kicked the three-pointer, a 25-yarder, to boost his season point total to 53.

Summarall got his field goals in the first, third and fourth periods. He missed a 48-yard attempt in the opening quarter, giving him a season's total of 10 field goals in 16 attempts. His 49-yarder, third of such distance this season, came at 6:50 of the third period, breaking a 3-3 tie. The 29-year-old end from Arkansas was just getting ready to try for his fourth field goal from the 30, when the gun ended the game.

Notre Dame Plays At Pitt Saturday

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Neither Notre Dame nor Pitt's season record is particularly impressive this year but when the two teams meet the game is usually a classic.

The Irish (2-4) visit Pitt (4-4) Saturday and the 59,000 fans expected at the sold-out stadium hope for a repeat of last year's thrilling cliff-hanger which the Panthers won, 29-26, when since-radiated quarterback Bill Kalit churning into the end zone with 11 seconds left.

Pittsburgh, which notched a come-from-behind 22-14 victory over Boston College last Saturday needs a win over Notre Dame to assure a .500 mark for the season because its final game is with Penn State. A Pitt win there would be a gross upset.

Johnson And Ray Fight Wednesday

NEW YORK (UPI) — Boxer-puncher Harold Johnson, top light-heavyweight contender, is favored at 3-1 to beat Sonny Ray at Chicago Stadium, Wednesday night, in the only televised fight on this week's meager boxing schedule.

Johnson of Philadelphia, scheduled for another shot at the 175-pound crown, seeks his 11th victory. Ray of Chicago was stopped because of a cut eye by Von Clay in the fifth round of his last bout, Aug. 21. Ray is ranked eighth by the Ring Magazine.

Johnson tried to take the title from Archie Moore in August, 1954, and he was outpointing ancient Archie when Moore knocked him out in the 14th round.

There's no TV fight Friday. Ray will replace Leo Duracher on National Broadcasting Company's Baseball Game of the Week.

Woodson Returns Kickoff 105 Yards In 24-16 Battle

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Speedy Abe Woodson crushed the Los Angeles Rams with a 105-yard return of a kickoff that gave the San Francisco 49ers a 24-16 victory Sunday in Memorial Coliseum.

The sensational run, unrehearsed before a whopping crowd of 94,376, came in the third quarter when the Rams had charged perilously close to trail at that point by only 7 points, 17-10.

The win kept the surprising 49ers firmly on top of the Western Division of the National Football League with six victories and one lone defeat. It marked the third straight loss for the once flashy Rams, who now have a 2-5 record.

The 49ers added another touchdown and a field goal in the second period while the Rams scored with one field goal, to trail 17-3 at the half.

Frank Ryan, a sophomore in pro football from Rice Institute, took over for Billy Wade late in the second quarter and steered the Rams 92 yards in 8 plays in the gap. Olle Matson highlighted the march with a 46-yard run to the 47 and a scored with a plunge for the final one yard.

Woodson quickly nullified the threat on the ensuing kickoff. The NFL record for a kickoff return is 106 yards by Al Carmichael for Green Bay against Detroit in 1956.

Keyser High Wins For Class AA Playoff Berth

Sissonville, Mt. Hope Are Contenders

Mullens Sews Up Berth; Top Class A Teams Are Decided

By BILL BARRETT
United Press International
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Arrangements have been completed for the first of three post-season West Virginia high school championship football games.

Ravenswood and Winfield will battle for the Class A title next Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in Pt. Pleasant. They finished their regular seasons this weekend and were the No. 1 and No. 2 teams in the unofficial United Press International ratings.

Ravenswood had a rating of 10.61 while Winfield finished at 10.25. Ravenswood was the 1957 champion and had a 9-1 record this fall, losing only to Marietta, Ohio—a triple-A team and the loss did not count against its record. Winfield, the 1958 runner-up after a 6-0 loss to Meadow Bridge in last year's title game, completed its second straight unbeaten 10-game season.

Participants for the other two championship games have not been determined. Bluefield and Parkersburg remained principal contenders for the triple-A contest while Mullens has sewed up a berth in the double-A title game.

Blacks Now Fifth
Pt. Pleasant, the No. 2 ranked team last week in Class AA, dropped a 41-14 decision to Iron-ton, Ohio, Friday to slump to fifth place in the ratings. A spokesman for the West Virginia Secondary Schools Activities Commission said Iron-ton's enrollment during the 1958-59 school year—the basis for classification this year—was equal to a double-A school in West Virginia.

That left Keyser, Sissonville, Mt. Hope as principal contenders for a playoff spot. Keyser apparently has the best chance of stepping into the post-season classic. But it may be the end of the month before an opponent for Mullens is determined since Keyser has two or more games left to play.

UPI unofficial ratings placed Bluefield on top of the Triple-A group for the second straight week at 14.72. Parkersburg was close behind at 14.5. Others following in order were Stonewall Jackson 11.77, Washington-Irving 11.44, Charleston 11 and Elkins 10.5.

Six Unbeaten
Behind Mullens at 13.06 were Keyser 11.56, Sissonville 11.16, Mt. Hope 11, Pt. Pleasant 10.78, Charles Town 10.68, Monongah 10.31, Williamson 10.14 and Hinton 9.61.

Six other Class A teams had undefeated seasons in-class competition but failed to amass enough rating points to qualify for the championship game. They included Paden City 9.72, White Sulphur 9.36, Moorefield 9.18, Barrackville 8.5, Trap Hill 8.25, and Romney Deaf & Blind 7.06.

Bluefield and Parkersburg can sew up berths in the triple-A playoff tentatively scheduled for Charleston Nov. 21 if both post victories this weekend. The Bears meet arch-rival Princeton, but is hardly likely to find the going rough. The Tigers have won only one of nine games played to date.

Parkersburg, on the other hand, might find the path to the championship a thorny one. The Big Reds play host to Weirton, the 1957 champion. It was Parkersburg that blasted the Red Riders in the regular season finale last year and the win vaulted the Big Reds into the post-season classic.

Keyser Remains Pinning For Class AA Playoff Berth

Mullens Sews Up Berth; Top Class A Teams Are Decided

By BILL BARRETT
United Press International
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Arrangements have been completed for the first of three post-season West Virginia high school championship football games.

Ravenswood and Winfield will battle for the Class A title next Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in Pt. Pleasant. They finished their regular seasons this weekend and were the No. 1 and No. 2 teams in the unofficial United Press International ratings.

Ravenswood had a rating of 10.61 while Winfield finished at 10.25. Ravenswood was the 1957 champion and had a 9-1 record this fall, losing only to Marietta, Ohio—a triple-A team and the loss did not count against its record. Winfield, the 1958 runnerup after a 6-0 loss to Meadow Bridge in last year's title game, completed its second straight unbeaten 10-game season.

Participants for the other two championship games have not been determined. Bluefield and Parkersburg remained principal contenders for the triple-A contest while Mullens has sewed up a berth in the double-A title game.

Blacks Now Fifth

Pt. Pleasant, the No. 2 ranked team last week in Class AA, dropped a 41-14 decision to Ironton, Ohio, Friday to slump to fifth place in the ratings. A spokesman for the West Virginia Secondary Schools Activities Commission said Ironton's enrollment during the 1958-59 school year—the basis for classification this year—was equal to a double-A school in West Virginia.

That left Keyser, Sissonville, Mt. Hope as principal contenders for a playoff spot. Keyser apparently has the best chance of slipping into the post-season class. But it may be the end of the month before an opponent for Mullens is determined since some out-of-state opponents of Keyser have two or more games left to play.

UPI unofficial ratings placed Bluefield on top of the Triple-A group for the second straight week at 14.72. Parkersburg was close behind at 14.5. Others following in order were Stonewall Jackson 11.77, Washington-Irving 11.44, Charleston 11 and Elkins 10.5.

Six Unbeaten

Behind Mullens at 13.06 was Keyser 11.56, Sissonville 11.16, Mt. Hope 11, Pt. Pleasant 10.78, Charles Town 10.68, Monongah 10.31, Williamson 10.14 and Hinton 9.61.

Six other Class A teams had undefeated seasons in-class competition but failed to amass enough rating points to qualify for the championship game. They included Paden City 9.72, White Sulphur 9.36, Moorefield 9.18, Barrackville 8.5, Trap Hill 8.25, and Romney Deaf & Blind 7.06.

Bluefield and Parkersburg can sew up berths in the triple-A playoff tentatively scheduled for Charleston Nov. 21 if both post victories this weekend. The Beavers meet arch-rival Princeton, but is hardly likely to find the going rough. The Tigers have won only one of nine games played to date.

Parkersburg, on the other hand, might find the path to the championship a thorny one. The Big Reds play host to Weirton, the 1957 champion. It was Parkersburg that blasted the Red Riders in the regular season finale last year and the win vaulted the Big Reds into the post-season class.

Television and Radio

Gentle Knight

Television is up to its ears in British knights this year, Sir John Gielgud and Sir Laurence Olivier having already shed lustre on the little screen and Sir Alec Guinness about to entertain us next Tuesday. The other day I had lunch with Sir Alec to probe knightly sentiment on the subject of television and came close to drowning in gentle British charm.

"I must say I don't find myself

held in England as television seems to hold me here, even by the nonsense you have here," he said apologetically. "At home I give it a weary look and turn it off. The direction here worries me, though. People never seem to speak face to face. I just don't believe people stand three feet behind the other person's shoulder to speak to him."

"I haven't a clue about television acting," declared Sir Alec, who has never been on television before, here or in England. "I've heard actors talk about the different kind of acting it requires but I don't have any intention of acting any differently."

Guinness turned down his Academy Award-winning part in "Bridge on the River Kwai" three times. "First they brought in David Lean as director, I thought I'd take another look at it. I turned it down then because I found the role anti-British. The third time I turned it down because I didn't think I could do it." He smiled ruefully. "Sam Spiegel (the producer) is a very persuasive man."

Hubbell Robinson, who persuaded Guinness to tackle television, has quite a lot of Spiegel in him, the actor admitted. "I have an absolutely unalterable rule — no more roles about a dubious bank clerk (a part Guinness played to a fare-thee-well in "Lavender Hill Mob"). When Mr. Robinson presented me with a story 'The Wicked Scheme of Jebal Deeks,' the first words out of his mouth were: 'It's about a bank clerk.' I very nearly rose and said: 'Please, let's not waste our time.' But then I thought he'd come such a long way. I read it properly and said yes."

Guinness puts the stamp of his own personality so indelibly on every role he plays — no one will ever be able to play a bank clerk without looking a little like Guinness — that it's interesting to speculate on what effect he'll have on the public image of Lawrence of Arabia. He's doing a play about Lawrence by Terence Rattigan in London next year.

"I spent a very interesting few weeks checking up with people who knew Lawrence. Mostly very sensitive people — artists, writers, and so forth. Blimpish people hate Lawrence. The others are inclined to love him. Churchill will always defend him to the death. Sassoon and Graves admit Lawrence told lies and was a bit of a charlatan, but they say that he was a great man, nevertheless."

Guinness smiled in his thin, controlled, warm way. "It's fascinating listening to the contradictions about Lawrence. One man will tell you Lawrence had a ruddy complexion. Another will say he was white as a slug. Of course, I'm too old and heavy to play the part but I will make an effort to look like him. None of this research really does anything except confuse me, anyhow."

It may come as a jolt to Guinness fans, many of whom think of him as a master of makeup, to discover he uses almost none. "For the last ten years, I've used the minimum. At the Old Vic, I used to plaster myself with the stuff. But since then I haven't. I do wear wildly different hair pieces." He interjected a thought that was new to me. "I hate to have anyone else make me up. Makeup is part of the creative process. You get to the theater a half-hour early and,

Television and Radio

Gentle Knight

Television is up to its ears in British knights this year, Sir John Gielgud and Sir Laurence Olivier having already shed lustre on the little screen and Sir Alec Guinness about to entertain us next Tuesday. The other day I had lunch with Sir Alec to probe knightly sentiment on the subject of television and came close to drowning in gentle British charm.

"I must say I don't find myself

held in England as television seems to hold me here, even by the nonsense you have here," he said apologetically. "At home I give it a weary look and turn it off. The direction here worries me, though. People never seem to speak face to face. I just don't believe people stand three feet behind the other person's shoulder to speak to him.

"I haven't a clue about television acting," declared Sir Alec, who has never been on television before, here or in England. "I've heard actors talk about the different kind of acting it requires but I don't have any intention of acting any differently."

Guinness turned down his Academy Award-winning part in "Bridge on the River Kwai" three times. "First they brought in David Lean as director, I thought I'd take another look at it. I turned it down then because I found the role anti-British. The third time I turned it down because I didn't think I could do it." He smiled ruefully. "Sam Spiegel (the producer) is a very persuasive man."

Hubbell Robinson, who persuaded

Guinness to tackle television, has quite a lot of Spiegel in him, the actor admitted. "I have an absolutely unalterable rule — no more roles about a dubious bank clerk (a part Guinness played to a fare-thee-well in "Lavender Hill Mob"). When Mr. Robinson presented me with a story 'The Wicked Scheme of Jehal Deeks,' the first words out of his mouth were: 'It's about a bank clerk. I very nearly rose and said: 'Please, let's not waste our time.' But then I thought he'd come such a long way. I read it properly and said yes."

Guinness put's the stamp of his own personality so indelibly on every role he plays — no one will ever be able to play a bank clerk without looking a little like Guinness — that it's interesting to speculate on what effect he'll have on the public image of Lawrence of Arabia. He's doing a play about Lawrence by Terence Rattigan in London next year.

"I spent a very interesting few weeks checking up with people who knew Lawrence. Mostly very sensitive people — artists, writers, and so forth. Blimpish people hate Lawrence. The others are inclined to love him. Churchill will always defend him to the death. Sassoon and Graves admit Lawrence told lies and was a bit of a charlatan, but they say that he was a great man, nevertheless.

Guinness smiled in his thin, controlled, warm way. "It's fascinating listening to the contradictions about Lawrence. One man will tell you Lawrence had a ruddy complexion. Another will say he was white as a slug. Of course, I'm too old and heavy to play the part like him. None of this research really does anything except confuse me, anyhow."

It may come as a jolt to Guinness fans, many of whom think of him as a master of make-up, to discover he uses almost none. "For the last ten years, I've used the minimum. At the Old Vic, I used to plaster myself with the stuff. But since then I haven't. I do wear wildly different hair pieces." He interjected a thought that was new to me. "I hate to have anyone else make me up. Make-up is part of the creative process. You get to the theater a half-hour early and,

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

How many sitting techniques have you? Two ways of sitting pretty are described today.

Sitting Pretty!

The newest Powers model was learning the beautiful "S" curve position that makes every woman's figure appear sylphlike when seated before a camera. After just a little practice and in one easy motion she gracefully lowered her hips firmly against the back, right corner of the chair, placing her thighs at an angle to the front edge of it. A streamlined effect.

"Now," I said, "for the finishing touches on this pose, square your shoulders toward the camera so your waist will look tiny. Pull your feet over as far to the right as possible, so they'll look small in the camera's eye. That's it!"

Holding the pose perfectly, she grinned and said, "That's fine for a camera or a drawing room. But oh, what a way to sit in the subway."

"As any daily rider will testify," I agreed, "But there is a way to sit gracefully that is practical, comfortable and still charming to look at in a subway or bus!"

It is something every woman should know. Here's how to do it when you're in a tight squeeze: Get right up to your seat before your right-about-face. As you turn around, be sure your feet are together and the back of your legs touching the seat. Now, using your legs as slow-moving levers, lower yourself into your seat with the well-oiled motion of ball-bearing action.

When you've learned to do this much with ease, you'll look well enough to meet any inspection. But here are a few fine points that you can master to perfect your appearance:

You can make your feet look small and delicate, just by drawing the right heel into the left instep. But be sure you keep both legs perpendicular to the floor so they form one slim leg line.

TOMORROW: Weight Watching "DANCE THROUGH A WEEK TO REALITY" Created exclusively for readers of this column, delightful solo dance steps anyone can do. They bring increased grace and reduced measurements, as proved by test in the Powers laboratory. Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a married woman who should know better, but I need advice on how to handle a problem.

A friend of mine has feet exactly my size. She always complains she can't find smart looking shoes, which makes no sense as I've told her a hundred times where to go. MY shoes she loves.

Two weeks ago she went crazy over some strip pumps which I had worn just a couple times. She begged me to sell the shoes to her for what I paid.

Yesterday she came over for coffee and slyly let me know she paid me $8 too much for the shoes according to her niece who bought the identical pair at the same store.

This made me boil. I explained if her niece paid $8 less it was because the shoes were marked down. Should I tell her to bring the shoes back and then return her money?—BOILING

DEAR BOILING: Leave alone. In the future, stay out of the shoe business and let your friend buy her pumps in the store. This way, if she thinks she's been overcharged she can take her complaint to the manager.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: How does a girl get a swell guy to ask her out a second time when she made a great big fool of herself on the very first date?

I had a crush on this certain fellow for two years but he thought I was too young for him. (He was a senior when I was a freshman.) Now he's in college and I'm 17 and he asked me to go to the college gather-all last Saturday night. I wanted to give him the idea I was real sophisticated so I had three vodka martinis one right after the other. Well, I got sick right in his car and he had to take me home at 10 o'clock.

He was very nice about everything but I know he was disgusted with me and I don't blame him a bit. Shall I phone him and apologize, write a letter or what? I'd give anything for another chance.—NUMBSKULL

DEAR NUMBSKULL: Don't write and don't phone. Wait until you see the boy in person then tell him you are horribly ashamed of yourself. If he doesn't invite you out again I wouldn't blame him. Nothing is so revolting to a fellow as a girl who gets drunk and ruins his car.

I hope this has taught you to stay off the joy juice for good.

DEAR ANN: I'm a bachelor, going with a woman for seven months. She has three children by a previous marriage.

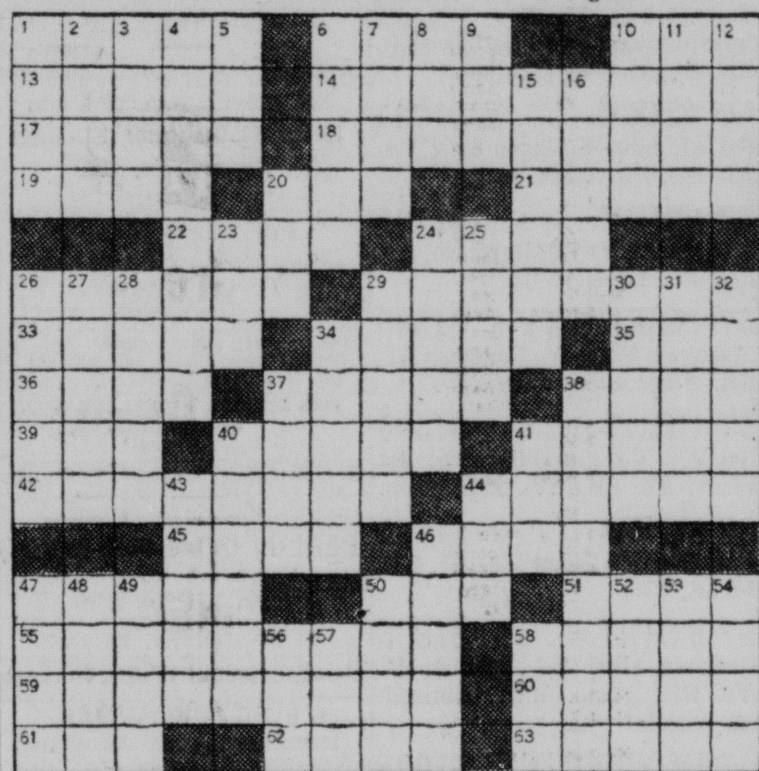

I admit I'm not accustomed to having children around. Her youngsters are fairly well behaved, but at times they get on my nerves. Then, too, I wonder if, after marriage, she would put them ahead of me.

I love this woman and I want to marry her but I'm not sure I can stand her children. Do you have any advice?—UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: Yes, I advise you to find a single girl or a childless widow. Your "not being accustomed to having children around" is only a part of the hazard. You'd constantly be competing with the children for

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:

AK 10 ♥ K 7 ♠ AQ 10 4 3 ♣ 7 6 4 3

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♦ Double Redouble 2 ♥ ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. In this type of situation it is proper to give partner the courtesy of the road. You are not in position at this time to determine what will be the best course of action. Partner's redouble announces not only that he has a good holding but that the situation is well in hand.

Q. 2—As South you hold:

AK 10 9 6 2 ♥ KJ ♠ 9 8 K 7 6 2

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1 ♥ 2 ♦ 2 ♥ ?

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. While it is tempting to enter the bidding on appropriate call is available. But partner has been interested in hearing about your suits he very likely would have chosen to double originally. If his hand is composed essentially of diamonds, any action on your part might lead to serious trouble.

Q. 3—As South you hold:

AK 6 ♥ AKQ 10 ♠ A 8 6 4 ♠ AJ 10 8

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♣ Pass 4 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Five diamonds. You have not yet begun to describe the strength of your hand. In view of partner's vigorous action over what may prove to be a near minimum in your hand, the conclusion is inescapable that the hand will produce a slam.

Q. 4—As South you hold:

AK 10 9 7 ♥ AJ ♠ AQ 3 ♣ A 8 7 5 2

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1 ♠ Pass 1 NT. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two no trump. Partner might readily have 10 or 11 points, and yet have chosen to exercise restraint in responding to allow you leeway for having made a shaded double in the "re-opening" position. Since your double was quite sound, you should extend one more chance to partner.

Q. 5—As South you hold:

AKJ 10 ♥ A 8 4 ♠ AKQ ♣ K 10 5 4

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♣ Pass 1 NT. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three no trump. Partner has announced possession of a balanced hand of from 9-11 points. Since 31 points in your maximum possible combined holding there is no slam in contemplation.

Q. 6—As South you hold:

AKJ 9 4 2 ♥ KJ 10 ♠ Q 5 ♣ A 9 5

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♦ Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three no trump. You were well within yourself on your first rebid and partner's initial response indicates a better than fair hand so that game should prove a reasonable undertaking particularly when one considers that North was under no pressure to bid after South's signoff of two spades.

Q. 7—As South you hold:

AKQ 3 ♥ Q ♠ KJ 10 9 5 ♠ KJ 4

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 NT. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three clubs. This hand is worth one try for something big. We would prefer a four-card club holding for the jump, but no other call is completely satisfactory.

Q. 8—As South you hold:

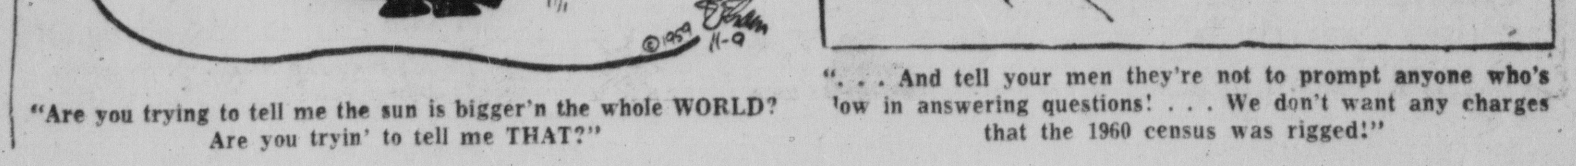

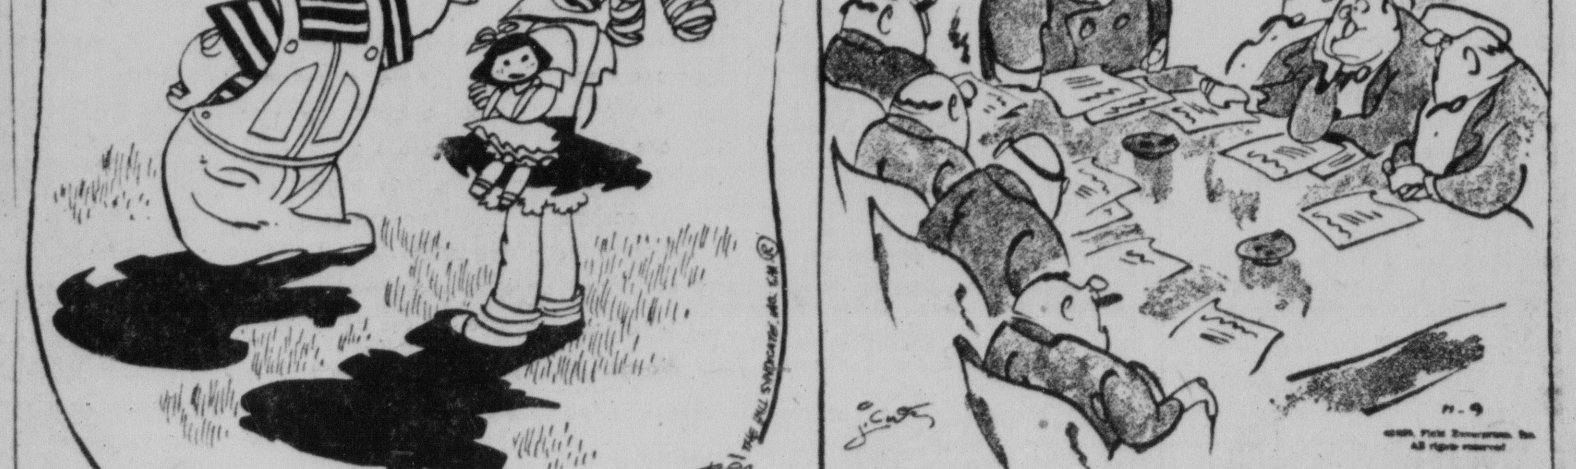

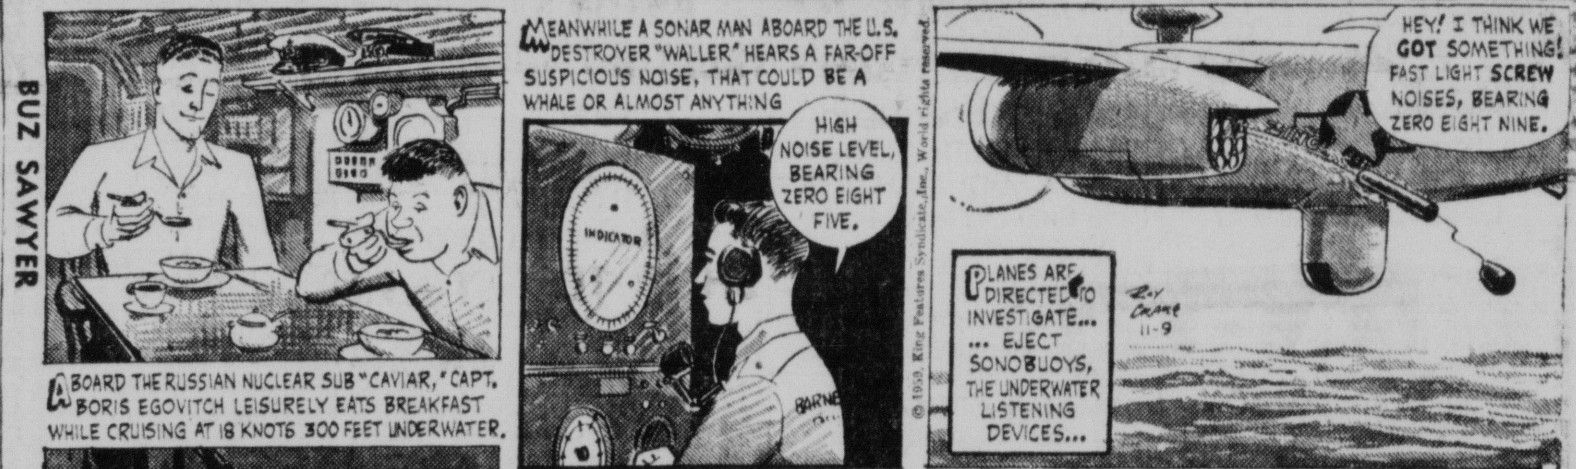

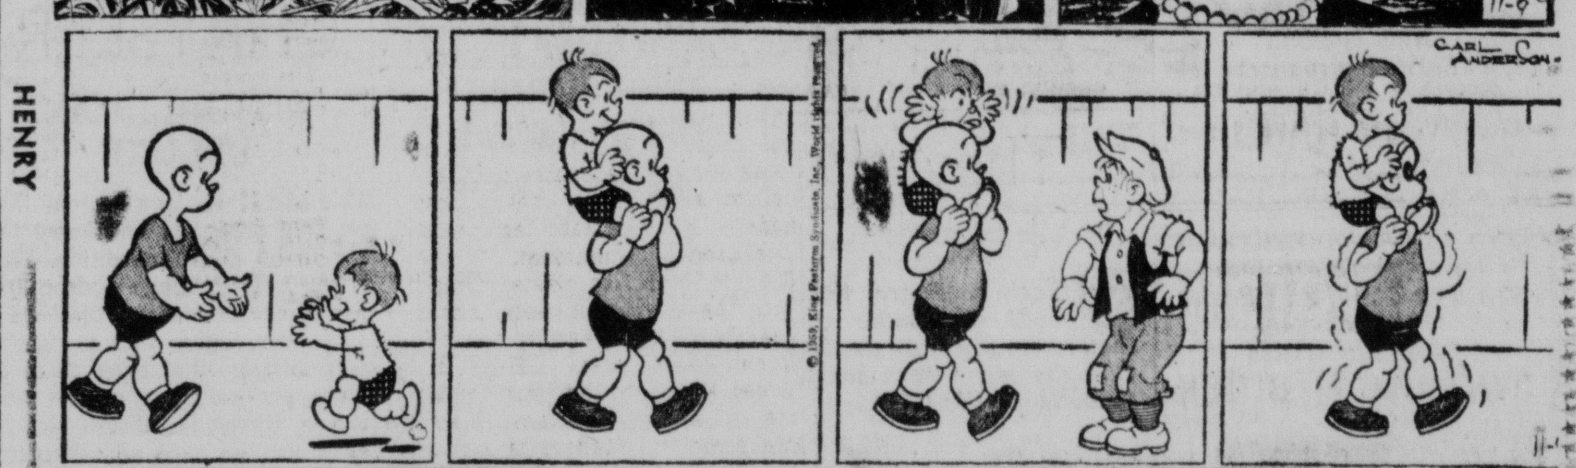

AJ 10 7 6 4 ♠ Q 8 7 5 ♠ J 10 5

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South Pass 1 ♠ Double ?

What do you bid?

A.—One spade. This is somewhat irregular as an immediate bid over a double normally shows a five card suit. However, in the present instance, your hand is not quite good enough for a redouble and, if you do not seize this convenient opportunity to get the spades in, it might prove too awkward to show them later.

WIFE PRESERVERS

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"No, no, you're not interrupting a thing. Come right in!"

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

How many sitting techniques have you? Two ways of sitting pretty are described today.

Sitting Pretty!

The newest Powers model was learning the beautiful "S" curve position that makes every woman's figure appear sylphlike when seated before a camera. After just a little practice and in one easy motion she gracefully lowered her hips firmly against the back, right corner of the chair, placing her thighs at an angle to the front edge of it. A streamlined effect.

"Now," I said, "for the finishing touches on this pose, square your shoulders toward the camera so your waist will look tiny. Pull your feet over as far to the right as possible, so they'll look small in the camera's eye. That's it!"

Holding the pose perfectly, she grinned and said, "That's fine for a camera or a drawing room. But oh, what a way to sit in the subway."

"As any daily rider will testify," I agreed, "but there is a way to sit gracefully that is practical, comfortable and still charming to look at in a subway or bus!"

It is something every woman

should know. Here's how to do it when you're in a tight squeeze: Get right up to your seat before your right-about-face. As you turn around, be sure your feet are together and the back of your legs touching the seat. Now, using your legs as slow-moving levers, lower yourself into your seat with the well-oiled motion of ball-bearing NEWS—Secrets of Charm.

When you've learned to do this much with ease, you'll look well enough to meet any inspection. But here are a few fine points that you can master to perfect your appearance:

You can make your feet look small and delicate, just by drawing the right heel into the left instep. But be sure you keep both legs perpendicular to the floor so they form one slim leg line.

TOMORROW: Weight Watching "DANCE THROUGH A WEEK TO BEAUTY" — Created exclusively for readers of this column, delightful who dance steps anyone can do. They bring increased grace and reduced measurements, as proved by text in the Powers laboratory. For the booklet giving complete details, write me in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10c (in coin) to cover costs.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a married woman who should know better, but I need advice on how to handle a problem.

A friend of mine has feet exactly my size. She always complains she can't find smart-looking shoes, which makes no sense as I've told her a hundred times where to go. MY shoes she loves. Two weeks ago she went crazy over some strip pumps which I had worn just a couple times. She begged me to sell the shoes to her for what I paid.

Yesterday she came over for coffee and slyly let me know she paid me $8 too much for the shoes according to her niece who bought the identical pair at the same store.

This made me boil. I explained if her niece paid $8 less it was because the shoes were marked down. Should I tell her to bring the shoes back and then return her money?—BOILING

DEAR BOILING: Leave bad enough alone. In the future, stay out of the shoe business and let your friend buy her pumps in the store. This way, if she thinks she's been overcharged she can take her complaint to the manager.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: How does a girl get a swell guy to ask her out a second time when she made a great big fool of herself on the very first date?

I had a crush on this certain fellow for two years but he thought I was too young for him. (He was a senior when I was a freshman.) Now he's in college and I'm 17 and he asked me to go to the college gather-all last Saturday night. I wanted to give him the idea I was real sophisticated so I had three vodka martinis one right after the other. Well, I got sick right in his car and he had to take me home at 10 o'clock.

He was very nice about everything but I know he was disgusted with me and I don't blame him a bit. Shall I phone him and apologize, write a letter or what? I'd give anything for another chance.—NUMBSKULL

DEAR NUMBSKULL: Don't write and don't phone. Wait until you see the boy in person then tell him you are horribly ashamed of yourself. If he doesn't invite you out again I wouldn't blame him. Nothing is so revolting to a fellow as a girl who gets drunk and ruins his car.

I hope this has taught you to stay off the joy juice for good.

DEAR ANN: I'm a bachelor, going with a woman for seven months. She has three children by a previous marriage.

I admit I'm not accustomed to having children around. Her youngsters are fairly well behaved, but at times they get on my nerves. Then, too, I wonder if, after marriage, she would put them ahead of me.

I love this woman and I want to marry her but I'm not sure I can stand her children. Do you have any advice?—UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: Yes, I advise you to find a single girl or a childless widow. Your "not being accustomed to having children around" is only a part of the hazard. You'd constantly be competing with the children for your wife's affections and this would spell disaster.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ALL SHOOK UP: Why don't you shake yourself up a boy friend who wants to do something beside neck?

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
AK 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Redouble 2 2 2 2
What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. In this type of situation it is proper to give partner the courtesy of the road. You are not in position at this time to determine what will be the best course of action. Partner's redouble announces not only that he has a good holding but that the situation is well in hand.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
AK 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 2 3 4
What do you bid?

A.—Pass. While it is tempting to enter the bidding on appropriate call is available. Had partner been interested in hearing about your suits he very likely would have chosen to double originally. If his hand is composed essentially of diamonds, any action on your part might lead to serious trouble.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
AK 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
The bidding has proceeded:

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear grandson, Lester Lee Green, who was killed
1 year ago, Nov. 9, 1958, at Moscow,
November brings sad memories.
A loved one from us is gone.
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
As years roll on and days pass by,
Deep in my heart your memory is kept.
The one I loved and can never forget.
His FATHER, MOTHER and GRANDMOTHER ANDREWS

DELUXE

This is a local, 1 owner, car that we sold originally and know the car to be in A-1 condition. This is an English made 4 door Imported economical car that has a 4 cylinder engine with a 4 speed transmission, that gives 25 to 35 miles per gallon of gas. It also has a Hydraulic Clutch and is easy for the wife and daughter to operate plus hydraulic brakes, forced air hot water heater, electric wipers, signal lights and excellent tires, with only 17,000 miles on them. The construction of these cars is marvelous and the riding and handling will amaze you. So, call or stop for a demonstration. We have a special price on this very economical car at only

October Rain
Above Normal

Rainfall in Cumberland during October was 7.21 inches, 4.68 inches above the October average.

The local office of the Geological Survey yesterday issued its report on the flow of the Potomac River during the month as well as the rainfall and temperatures.

The daily flow of the Potomac River (as measured at the Wiley Ford gauge) was 1,019 cubic feet per second, or 659 million gallons per day. This is 178 per cent of the 30-year October average.

During the month the river flow varied from 105,000,000 gallons on October 7 and 6,463,000, 000 gallons on October 24.

The Savage River Dam supplied only 28.4 million gallons, or 4.3 per cent of the river flow during the month.

The average temperature during the month was 56.1 degrees, which is 1.5 degrees above normal.

NOTICE OF ELECTION
To all occupiers of land lying within the boundaries of the Allegany Soil Conservation District, notice is hereby given that on the 18th day of November, 1958, an election will be held for the office of three Supervisors for the Allegany Soil Conservation District of the State of Maryland.

The following candidates have been nominated for election by law:
Eloy Buser, Oldtown
Charles G. Llewellyn, McCool
D. T. Pufenberg, Little Orleans
Ernest Sider, Oldtown

Eligible voters are defined in the Soil Conservation Districts Act as all persons or corporations who occupy farm land in the district either as owners, lessees, renters, or tenants. Eligible voters residing within the district may cast their ballots at the following polling place:
November 16, 17 and 18, 8:30 a. m. to 4:00 p. m., County Agent's office, Courthouse, Cumberland, Maryland.

Ballots may also be returned by mail as directed in the letter accompanying the ballots which are being distributed in the Allegany District.

City Collects 71.67 Per Cent Of Total Levy

Spending Lags As Fourth Month Ends

The City of Cumberland collected nearly three-fourths of its all-time high levy by October 31, according to a report prepared by City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson on the condition of the levy.

The reports are presented to department heads each month so they may keep informed on expenditures and know what funds are on hand to maintain their departments for the rest of the fiscal year.

The report showed that income is coming in about on schedule and that expenditures are running about six per cent below par.

$1,325,533 On Hand

A total of $1,325,533.11 had been collected, representing 71.67 of the $1,849,501 levy. This leaves $523,976.89 to be collected if revenues are to meet the amount levied.

Collections on 1959 taxes totaled $1,038,075.05. This is 82.84 of the $1,253,080 levied in property taxes and against bank stock.

Collections on the total levy and the tax levy are running slightly below last year, when 76 per cent of the total levy and 86.8 per cent of the tax levy were in by October 31.

Most of the difference results in later billing of the personal property of corporations, which cannot be sent out until they are received from the State Tax Commission.

Last October 31, about $250,000 of such taxes had been billed, as opposed to this year's $220,000.

The report shows no receipts from State Gas and Auto Revenues, which began coming in this week.

The Mayor and Council on Monday authorized Mr. Gibson to issue a $70,000 check to the State Roads Commission as the current payment toward the $490,000 obligation.

As this check went out Wednesday, Finance Commissioner Mrs. Lucile Roeder received a SRC check for $22,724.51 representing funds withheld in excess of the $210,000 due July 30.

Check Is Coming
And the SRC has advised that the city will soon get a check as its first quarter allotment on the taxes collected by the state and shared with municipalities in lieu of local taxation.

Tax collections came in as scheduled this year, with $6,249.67 collected in August, $307,279.51 in September and $724,495.71 during October, and a $50.16 payment made in advance of the setting of the levy brought the total to $1,038,075.05.

During the first third of the year, city departments spent $428,646.16, which is 26.73 per cent of the total appropriations.

Use Of Sewer Plug Suggested

The use of sewer plugs to alleviate damage to basements when storm sewers back up during heavy rainstorms has been suggested by Franklin J. Blaney, city sanitary engineer.

He said the expansion plugs may be secured from any plumber or plumbing supply source.

Most such plugs, he said, are of the expanding type which will seal basement sewer drains and prevent backing up.

Mr. Blaney said the regular cast iron drain may be used as before and replaced with the expanding plug whenever a heavy rain hits.

He said he does not recommend the use of a wooden plug, hammered into the opening, due to the danger of breaking the drain.

The plug, he said, is only a temporary solution but may help while the city embarks on a long-range plan to modernize its storm and sanitary sewer system.

Theft Reported

George Ward, 1106 Frederick Street, reported to city police that a $90 camera was taken from the glove compartment of his car while it was parked on Greenway Avenue Friday night as he attended the local high school football contest.

Rehearse For "Oklahoma"

Patricia Kirk Shaffer and Joseph E. Mackert are shown rehearsing a ballet number which will be a feature of the forthcoming production of "Oklahoma," which will be presented here November 18, 19 and 20 at Allegany High School auditorium. The show, with a cast of 80, is being sponsored by Cumberland Lodge 63, BPO Elks and is being directed by H. C. Wickard. The proceeds will be given to the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

Safety Letter Distributed To School Pupils

Project Endorsed By Teen Group

An open letter to school students is being distributed by the Allegany County Board of Education to promote pedestrian safety. Officials said 17,000 copies of the letter will be sent out in an endeavor to reach every home in the county where a child attends either public or parochial schools.

The letter was developed by the safety department of the Celanese Corporation of America for distribution to its employees as part of the off-the-job safety program in effect at the Amcelle plant.

It was made available to Cumberland Chapter 377, Safe-Teen Inc., as a community service to the cause of traffic safety.

Lynn Walker, administrator of the chapter, said last night the letter represents the first county-wide project of Safe-Teen, an organization of serious-minded young people dedicated to furthering safety on the highways and streets of the county.

Dennis Bobo Jr., president, said the local chapter appreciates the spirit of public service and cooperation shown by the officials of the Celanese Corporation and the Board of Education in making it possible for the group to accomplish this service.

The letter follows:
Dear Kids:
"Once more, now that the school year has started, I, as an adult driver, realize that many additional responsibilities are placed upon me and my driving habits. With your attending school, I must continuously remind myself as I drive along that school has started, that a small child, perhaps attending school for the first time, may dart from behind a car or blind corner in a hurry to reach school before the bell rings. I must remember that little children's legs sometimes travel faster than their minds, that some child may ignore a school patrolman or disobey some traffic signal."

"These are just some of the things that I must think about as I drive along during the time when you may be on your way to or from school. Perhaps you would be willing to help me with my problem. You might remember that as I drive along I may be thinking about the argument I had at work, or the mounting cost of living, or of my ulcer."

"It will require a lot of thought from both of us, but if we work at it, I am sure we can see you safely through the coming school year. Let's all think about it."

Sincerely,
A Driver

Cresaptown Firemen Quench Flue Fire

The Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company was called yesterday at 8 a. m. to extinguish a flue fire at the home of Joseph D. Wenrich there. Mr. Wenrich, who is assistant fire chief in Cresaptown, was absent at the time.

Two pumpers with 12 men responded to the blaze which caused no damage.

Board To Meet

The executive board of the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Heart offices, Union Street County Building, according to James W. Bishop, president.

A report on the Rheumatic Fever control program and other activities will be discussed.

United Church Women Explain UNICEF Support

The United Church Women of Cumberland and Frostburg, representing eight Protestant denominations, has issued a statement explaining why that organization strongly endorses UNICEF.

Mrs. E. E. Miller, president of the Cumberland

Council of Church Women, said that several veterans' organizations and individuals had criticized the program of collecting funds for UNICEF instead of the usual "Trick Or Treat" game at Halloween. They had argued that two of the countries benefiting from the United Nations' Children's Fund are Communistic. Some $1,128.21 was collected here.

Following is the United Church Women's statement:

These are the facts incorporated in a letter from Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, permanent representative of the United States to the United Nations.

"The United Nations' Children's Fund aided 105 countries in 1958, of which two, Poland and Yugoslavia are 'Communist and Communist-controlled.' Of these two, Yugoslavia is not a member of the Soviet bloc or a satellite of the Soviet Union. The 1958 allocation by the Children's Fund for Poland, which is a Soviet satellite, came to $179,000 — less than one per cent of the fund's total 1958 allocations of $18,780,000."

"I may add that the United States Congress has appropriated money every year for the Children's Fund in the belief that it is in the interest of the United States of America to do so."

These are the facts incorporated in the Congressional Record:

"The implication is that UNICEF policy is dominated by Communist influence. In actuality, UNICEF policy is made by a 30-nation executive board, each member having one vote. At the present time, there are only four representatives from Communist governments on the executive board. Members are elected at regular intervals with due regard for geographical representation. This precludes the possibility of Communist domination of UNICEF policy."

Drivers Urged To Re-Register For Licenses

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles John R. Jewell issued a warning to drivers whose last names begin with the letters "L, M, N, and O" and who have not re-registered their driving licenses that their present licenses expire on December 31. He urged that they apply for renewal without delay.

If an application has not been received by drivers in this category or if their applications have been lost or destroyed, they are asked to notify the Department of Motor Vehicles immediately giving full name, correct address and number of their present driving licenses.

Public Schools Have Half Day

Public schools in Allegany County will be closed for a half day today with students being dismissed from classes at 1 p. m. The half-day recess is the second of five such periods scheduled in the school calendar this year to permit teachers to perform varied professional and clerical duties.

Lurana Unit To Meet

The Lurana Veteran Unit, A.V.M.C., will meet Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine DeArcangelis, 216 Cumberland Street.

Columbia Street PTA To Observe Education Week

As a feature of the observance of American Education Week, the Columbia Street PTA will conduct a School Visitation Day from 1:30 until 3 p. m. Thursday, according to Mrs. Marshall Sowers, president.

Tea will be served at the school from 3 until 3:30 p. m. Thursday.

Coming plans for the PTA were outlined by Mrs. Walter Herath, program chairman, at the recent executive board meeting. She said Mrs. Helen Vogel, public health nurse, will discuss fluoridation at the next PTA meeting on Thursday, November 19. Dr. John J. Robinson Jr., local dentist and PTA member, also will discuss this proposal to reduce tooth decay in children. A film will be shown.

A Fathers' Night will be observed on January 21.

Police Seeking Family That Lost Bundle Of Clothes

City police are seeking a family which lost a boxful of clothes and other personal effects Saturday night on Baltimore Street. Ralph Collins, Keyser, turned the cardboard box over to police saying he saw the box fall from the trunk of a passing car which carried temporary license plates he was unable to identify.

The box contained a large assortment of clothing, several insurance policies, pictures and other items.

Police said the insurance policies are issued to a Raymond M. Miller Jr., his wife, Ora C. Miller, and their children, Raymond Miller III, Mary Miller, Jeffrey Miller and Robert Miller, whose ages range from 1 to 6 years.

Jaycees Pancake Event Set Today

The third annual Pancake Day, sponsored by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, will be held at the State Armory today with seven contestants vying for queen honors.

The event will be held from 6 a. m. until 8 p. m. at the downtown armory. A parade was held Saturday with the queen contestants participating.

"Miss Pancake III" will be selected today. Contestants are Dolene Henderson, Mary Ann Painter, Helen Paxton, Sylvia Sisk, Marlene Sullivan, Treva Silber and Cathleen Grubb.

Royal Arch Degree Will Be Conferred

Salem Chapter No. 18, Royal Arch Masons, will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the Masonic Temple.

The Royal Arch Degree will be conferred upon a group of candidates, according to Fred A. Gates Jr., high priest.

Stegmaier To Speak

Harry I. Stegmaier, prominent local attorney, will speak at the regular Tuesday meeting of the Rotary Club of Cumberland at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA. His topic will be "Booth's Ghost."

Veterans Urged To File Claims Without Delay

Many veterans delay filing claims for disability compensation for injuries or illnesses incurred while in service. These men and women, Samuel Weston, local VA representative said, seem to think that they can easily establish service connection any time they apply, even years after discharge.

This is not always true, Mr. Weston said. Usually, the longer a veteran waits, the more difficult it becomes. Sometimes long delays combined with unforeseeable circumstances may cause denial of the claim.

The Veterans Administration explains that to warrant payment of compensation, the veteran must show that the disease or injury suffered in service has left a continuing disability. If the claim is filed after discharge, medical evidence is required to show this continuity. The longer the veteran waits to file the claim, the greater amount of evidence is required to show continuity.

With the passage of years, Mr. Weston noted, people forget essential names, dates and addresses; doctors move or die and vital information needed becomes unavailable.

Veterans themselves may suffer additional disease or injury which may make the origin of the disability hard to determine. Without necessary evidence, the claim may have to be denied.

Any veterans who have claim problems, or questions concerning their service incurred disabilities should not hesitate to make inquiry at the VA office, third floor, Cumberland Post Office Building.

Wool Promotion Plan Signed

A new three-year agreement between government and industry for a program to promote increased use of lamb and wool has been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to William L. Dudley, chairman of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The agreement is between the Secretary of Agriculture and the American Sheep Producers Council. It is being continued on the basis of a referendum of sheep growers, in which 69 percent of the growers voting, producing 81 percent of the sheep represented, favored continuing the agreement.

The program will be financed by deductions from incentive payments earned by producers in the national wool program. Under terms of the agreement, deductions will be made from payments next summer for the 1959 marketing year (April 1, 1959 through March 31, 1960) at the rate of 1 cent per pound of shorn wool marketed and 5 cents per hundred pounds of live weight of unshorn lambs marketed. Deductions for the 1960 and 1961 marketing years will be made at such rates as are agreed upon but not more than the 1959 rate.

"Better Union" Program Planned

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — The West Virginia University Labor Extension Service will open a six-week program in Parkersburg Tuesday on "Building a Better Union," it was announced Sunday.

The program will consist of 12 sessions and will be held in cooperation with Local 9 of the Textile Workers of America.

State Hospital Costs' Audit Agency Backed

Health, Insurance Leaders Support It

BALTIMORE (AP)—An agency to audit hospital costs in Maryland has been proposed by officials of the State health and insurance departments.

The non-profit group would screen costs for the State, Blue Cross and the Maryland Hospital Council.

Dr. Edward Davens, acting director of the Health Department, and Insurance Commissioner F. Douglass Sears suggested the plan Saturday. They said they are arranging conferences with Blue Cross and Maryland Hospital Council officials to obtain formal approval and work out a plan of operation.

The auditing proposal comes as another development in the widely discussed operations of Blue Cross, a hospital insurance program with wide membership.

A committee of the Legislative Council held several meetings during the summer investigating several facets of its operations. One complaint of critics was that administrators of the plan were not watching costs carefully enough, and some hospital charges were excessive.

The committee recommended, among other things, that Maryland Hospital Service Inc., which operates Blue Cross, be required to conform to hospital cost figures developed under supervision of the State Health Department.

The legislative investigation was prompted by the second sizable Blue Cross rate hike within a year, a 20 per cent stepup that went into effect Oct. 1.

Md. Income Tax Yields $6,247,334 During October

Income tax receipts for the month of October just closed, were $6,247,334 as compared to $4,726,782 for October a year ago, according to figures just released by State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein.

More than $5 million of October receipts represented employer's withholding collections for the third quarter of the year 1959. The return for this quarter is due on or before October 31, but many employers file before the due date and as a result approximately one-third of the reports are usually processed by the due date.

Mr. Goldstein said that many reports had been analyzed to determine what effect the steel strike may have had on withholding in Maryland. He stated that it was noted that the Maryland income tax withheld in the third quarter of 1959 by the State's largest steel industry was nearly a half million dollars less than for the second quarter of 1959. No other large reductions have been noted in the reports processed at the close of October, the Comptroller stated.

Advance Pay Plan Slated

All offices of the Maryland Department of Employment Security will be closed Veterans' Day, Wednesday.

Claimants for unemployment insurance who would normally receive their benefit checks Wednesday will receive them Tuesday instead, as will those regularly scheduled for Tuesday.

In those part-time offices which normally are open on Wednesdays only, other scheduling arrangements are being made, and the affected claimants will be individually notified of the changes. There will undoubtedly be some delay in the payment of checks Tuesday. Claimants can reduce their waiting time by reporting neither early nor late, but at the time assigned them.

Flue Fire Causes Very Little Damage

Minor damage was caused by a flue fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Kave, 1112 Simpson Avenue, in LaVale, last night.

LaVale Volunteer Fire Company answered the 7:25 p. m. alarm with 28 men and confined the blaze to the flue. Firemen, who were at the scene 35 minutes, said minor damage was caused by smoke in the house. They used a smoke ejector to clear the building.

Future Construction Prospects Are Good

September contracts for future construction in Maryland totaled $64,033,000, an increase of 10 per cent compared to September 1958, according to F. W. Dodge Corporation.

A breakdown of contracts showed non-residential at $33,515,000, up 65 per cent; residential at $24,325,000, down 22 per cent, and heavy engineering at $6,192,000, down eight per cent.

Dodge figures show contracts for the first nine months amounted to $540,504,000, up six per cent compared to the corresponding period of 1958.

Air Force Enlists 10 From Area

All Are Sent To Lackland

Nine area men and one woman have enlisted in the U. S. Air Force it was announced yesterday by local AF recruiters.

All have been sent to Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Texas, for their initial Air Force basic training.

The group includes Miss Florence Louise Cook, daughter of Mrs. Edna F. Cook, Buffalo Mills, Pa. She is a graduate of Hyndman-Londonderry High School.

Others are Thomas W. Rigglesman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Rigglesman, 115 Front Street, Westernport; Joseph R. Hote, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Hote of Little Orleans, and a graduate of Flintstone High School; James P. Clark, son of Mrs. Rita M. Clark, 24 Blair Street, Frostburg, and a 1959 graduate of Beall High School, and Edward D. Wasson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Wasson, Fort Ashby, W. Va., and a graduate of Fort Ashby High School.

Also, Roger C. Abe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Abe, 252 Elder Street, a graduate of Fort Hill High School; William H. Fleckenstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert W. Fleckenstein, 33 National Highway, LaVale, a 1959 graduate of LaSalle High School where he was a three-year letter man with the rifle club; Ernest T. Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Snyder, Ridgeley, and a graduate of Fort Ashby High School; John H. Horschler Jr., a son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Horschler Sr., 636 Columbia Avenue, and Ray L. Barton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Barton, Kitzmiller, a 1954 graduate of Elk Garden High School, who previously served four years in the Air Force as a radar operator.

The local recruiting office also announced there is a heavy demand for men and women in the Air Force today with electrical backgrounds. Pilots and navigators are needed to fill the officers ranks and any high school graduate, 19 years of age, may apply for these posts through the Air Force Aviation Cadet program.

O'Baker Passes Pre-Flight Training Test

Clyde Eugene O'Baker, RD 4, has passed all his tests and is awaiting his letter of selection to attend pre-flight training school for navigators as an aviation cadet in the Air Force.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. O'Baker. After 12 weeks of pre-flight training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, he will continue studies as a navigator for 14 months and will receive training in a T-29 flying classroom.

Studies will include all-weather fighter interceptor, electronic counter measures, reconnaissance bombardment and added aeronautical skills.

Upon completion of studies he will be commissioned a second lieutenant. A graduate of Allegany High School he attended Frostburg State Teachers College one year.

Two other men joined the Air Force here and will get their initial basic training at Lackland Air Force Base.

They are Arthur R. Lazarus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram K. Lazarus, 14 South Lee Street, and Robert L. Gaughan, of Bowman's Addition.

Both men enlisted for four years and will be assigned to the administrative career field. Young Lazarus who graduated from Allegany High School attended the University of Maryland two and a half years before enlisting. Gaughan attended Fort Hill High School.

Shot Through Window Strikes Boy, 6, In Face

ALTOONA, Pa. (UPI) — Gary Rose, 6, Bedford RD 4, was listed in fair condition at a hospital here Sunday with gunshot wounds of the face suffered when a hunter fired through a window of his home.

The youngster was struck in the face by scores of shotgun pellets inside the house Saturday. He underwent eye surgery Saturday night but doctors are as yet uncertain whether or not his sight can be saved.

Further surgery was scheduled Tuesday.

Authorities have not learned the identity of the hunter who fired toward the Rose home.

Rep. Bailey To Speak At Pt. Pleasant

PT. PLEASANT, W. Va. (UPI) — Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey (D-W. Va.) is scheduled to address a conference of the Mason-Jackson Labor Council here Saturday.

The meeting is designed to acquaint AFL-CIO members in this area with the Committee on Political Education. Another speaker will be Miles C. Stanley, Dunbar, president of West Virginia Labor Federation.

Body Found On Mountain Is Identified

Amos Walker Died Of Natural Causes

The body of a man found on the slope of Flat Top Mountain in Hardy County, W. Va., Saturday has been identified as that of Amos Welton Walker, 70-year-old Elkton, Va., resident.

Cpl. C. G. Hamrick of the West Virginia State Police said positive identification was made possible by the tattered clothing and shoes on the body and the color of the man's hair.

The state policeman's investigation disclosed that Walker had visited the Silas Ritchie home atop Flat Top Mountain for two or three days in July.

Cpl. Hamrick said Walker left the Ritchie home on July 28 and had not been seen nor heard from since.

He apparently was walking along a little used path down the mountainside when he is believed to have collapsed and died of natural causes near a small stream called Brakes Run. The body was found about four miles from the Ritchie residence, Cpl. Hamrick stated.

The dead man was described as a hermit or recluse who was a native of Hardy County, having lived in the Needmore and Mathias areas for most of his life. He had been living in Elkton, however, for the past two or three years, the state policeman said.

The badly decomposed body was found by a group of hunters Saturday. Dr. M. H. Maxwell of Moorefield examined the body and said he could find no evidence of foul play. He was unable to determine the exact time of death.

Members of the hunting party were identified as Forrest Bergdoll, of Terra Alta; his brothers, Carl and Leland Bergdoll, both of Moorefield, and S. M. Mongold, of South Fork section.

Cpl. Hamrick said the remote area where the body was found is about three miles from the main road. The hunters and Cpl. Hamrick carried it to a pickup truck to bring it

City Collects 71.67 Per Cent Of Total Levy

Spending Lags As Fourth Month Ends

The City of Cumberland collected nearly three-fourths of its all-time high levy by October 31, according to a report prepared by City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson on the condition of the levy.

The reports are presented to department heads each month so they may keep informed on expenditures and know what funds are on hand to maintain their departments for the rest of the fiscal year.

The report showed that income is coming in about on schedule and that expenditures are running about six per cent below par.

$1,325,533 On Hand

A total of $1,325,533.11 had been collected, representing 71.67 of the $1,849,501 levy. This leaves $523,976.89 to be collected if revenues are to meet the amount levied.

Collections on 1959 taxes totaled $1,038,075.05. This is 82.84 of the $1,253,080 levied in property taxes and against bank stock.

Collections on the total levy and the tax levy are running slightly below last year, when 76 per cent of the total levy and 86.8 per cent of the tax levy were in by October 31.

Most of the difference results in later billing of the personal property of corporations, which cannot be sent out until they are received from the State Tax Commission.

Last October 31, about $250,000 of such taxes had been billed, as opposed to this year's $220,000. The report shows no receipts from State Gas and Auto Revenues, which began coming in this week.

The Mayor and Council on Monday authorized Mr. Gibson to issue a $70,000 check to the State Roads Commission as the current payment toward the $490,000 obligation.

As this check went out Wednesday, Finance Commissioner Mrs. Lucile Roeder received a SRC check for $22,724.51 representing funds withheld in excess of the $210,000 due July 30.

Check Is Coming

And the SRC has advised that the city will soon get a check as its first quarter allotment on the taxes collected by the state and shared with municipalities in lieu of local taxation.

Tax collections came in as scheduled this year, with $6,249.67 collected in August, $307,279.51 in September and $724,495.71 during October, and a $50.16 payment made in advance of the setting of the levy brought the total to $1,038,075.05.

During the first third of the year, city departments spent $428,646.16, which is 26.73 per cent of the total appropriations.

Most departments appear to be operating within their budgets.

Use Of Sewer Plug Suggested

The use of sewer plugs to alleviate damage to basements when storm sewers back up during heavy rainstorms has been suggested by Franklin J. Blaney, city sanitary engineer.

He said the expansion plugs may be secured from any plumber or plumbing supply source.

Most such plugs, he said, are of the expanding type which will seal basement sewer drains and prevent backing up.

Mr. Blaney said the regular cast iron drain may be used as before and replaced with the expanding plug whenever a heavy rain hits.

He said he does not recommend the use of a wooden plug, hammered into the opening, due to the danger of breaking the drain.

The plug, he said, is only a temporary solution but may help while the city embarks on a long-range plan to modernize its storm and sanitary sewer system.

Safety Letter Distributed To School Pupils

Project Endorsed By Teen Group

An open letter to school students is being distributed by the Allegany County Board of Education to promote pedestrian safety. Officials said 17,000 copies of the letter will be sent out in an endeavor to reach every home in the county where a child attends either public or parochial schools.

The letter was developed by the safety department of the Celanese Corporation of America for distribution to its employees as part of the off-the-job safety program in effect at the Amcell plant.

It was made available to Cumberland Chapter 377, Safe-Ten Inc., as a community service to the cause of traffic safety.

Lynn Walker, administrator of the chapter, said last night the letter represents the first county-wide project of Safe-Ten, an organization of serious-minded young people dedicated to furthering safety on the highways and streets of the county.

Dennis Bobo Jr., president, said the local chapter appreciates the spirit of public service and cooperation shown by the officials of the Celanese Corporation and the Board of Education in making it possible for the group to accomplish this service.

The letter follows:

Dear Kids:

"Once more, now that the school year has started, I, as an adult driver, realize that many additional responsibilities are placed upon me and my driving habits. With your attending school, I must continuously remind myself as I drive along that school has started, that a small child, perhaps attending school for the first time, may dart from behind a car or blind corner in a hurry to reach school before the bell rings. I must remember that little children's legs sometimes travel faster than their minds, that some child may ignore a school patrolman or disobey some traffic signal."

"These are just some of the things that I must think about as I drive along during the time when you may be on your way to or from school. Perhaps you would be willing to help me with my problem. You might remember that as I drive along I may be thinking about the argument I had at work, or the mounting cost of living, or of my ulcer."

"It will require a lot of thought from both of us, but if we work at it, I am sure we can see you safely through the coming school year. Let's all think about it."

Sincerely,

A Driver

Cresaptown Firemen Quench Flue Fire

The Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company was called yesterday at 8 a. m. to extinguish a flue fire at the home of Joseph D. Wenrich there. Mr. Wenrich, who is assistant fire chief in Cresaptown, was absent at the time.

Two pumpers with 12 men responded to the blaze which caused no damage.

Board To Meet

The executive board of the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Heart offices, Union Street County Building, according to James W. Bishop, president.

A report on the Rheumatic Fever control program and other activities will be discussed.

United Church Women Explain UNICEF Support

The United Church Women of Cumberland and Frostburg, representing eight Protestant denominations, has issued a statement explaining why that organization strongly endorses UNICEF.

Mrs. E. E. Miller, president of the Cumberland

Council of Church Women, said that several veterans' organizations and individuals had criticized the program of collecting funds for UNICEF instead of the usual "Trick Or Treat" game at Halloween. She had argued that two of the countries benefiting from the United Nations' Children's Fund are Communistic. Some $1,128.21 was collected here.

Following is the United Church Women's statement:

These are the facts incorporated in a letter from Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, permanent representative of the United States to the United Nations.

"The United Nations' Children's Fund aided 105 countries in 1958, of which two, Poland and Yugoslavia are Communist and Communist-controlled. Of these two, Yugoslavia is not a member of the Soviet bloc or a satellite of the Soviet Union. The 1958 allocation by the Children's Fund for Poland, which is a Soviet satellite, came to $179,000 — less than one per cent of the fund's total 1958 allocations of $18,780,000."

"I may add that the United States Congress has appropriated money every year for the Children's Fund in the belief that it is in the interest of the United States of America to do so."

These are the facts incorporated in the Congressional Record: "The implication is that UNICEF policy is dominated by Communist influence. In actuality, UNICEF policy is made by a 30-nation executive board, each member having one vote. At the present time, there are only four representatives from Communist governments on the executive board. Members are elected at regular intervals with due regard for geographical representation. This precludes the possibility of Communist domination of UNICEF policy."

Drivers Urged To Re-Register For Licenses

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles John R. Jewell issued a warning to drivers whose last names begin with the letters "L, M, N, and O" and who have not re-registered for their driving licenses that their present licenses expire on December 31. He urged that they apply for renewal without delay.

If an application has not been received by drivers in this category or if their applications have been lost or destroyed, they are asked to notify the Department of Motor Vehicles immediately giving full name, correct address and number of their present driving licenses.

Public Schools Have Half Day

Lurana Unit To Meet

The Lurana Veteran Unit, A.V.M.C., will meet Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine DeAracangis, 216 Cumberland Street.

Columbia Street PTA To Observe Education Week

As a feature of the observance of American Education Week, the Columbia Street PTA will conduct a School Visitation Day from 1:30 until 3 p. m. Thursday, according to Mrs. Marshall Sowers, president.

Tea will be served at the school from 3 until 3:30 p. m. Thursday.

Coming plans for the PTA were outlined by Mrs. Walter Herath, program chairman, at the recent executive board meeting. She said Mrs. Helen Vogel, public health nurse, will discuss fluoridation at the next PTA meeting on Thursday, November 19. Dr. John J. Robinson Jr., local dentist and PTA member, also will discuss this proposal to reduce tooth decay in children. A film will be shown.

A Fathers' Night will be observed on January 21.

Police Seeking Family That Lost Bundle Of Clothes

City police are seeking a family which lost a boxful of clothes and other personal effects Saturday night on Baltimore Street. Ralph Collins, Keyser, turned the cardboard box over to police saying he saw the box fall from the trunk of a passing car which carried temporary license plates he was unable to identify.

The box contained a large assortment of clothing, several insurance policies, pictures and other items.

Police said the insurance policies are issued to a Raymond M. Miller Jr., his wife, Ora C. Miller, and their children, Raymond Miller III, Mary Miller, Jeffrey Miller and Robert Miller, whose ages range from 1 to 6 years.

Stegmaier To Speak

Harry I. Stegmaier, prominent local attorney, will speak at the regular Tuesday meeting of the Rotary Club of Cumberland at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA. His topic will be "Booth's Ghost."

Veterans Urged To File Claims Without Delay

Many veterans delay filing claims for disability compensation for injuries or illness incurred while in service. These men and women, Samuel Weston, local VA representative said, seem to think that they can easily establish service connection any time they apply, even years after discharge.

This is not always true, Mr. Weston said. Usually, the longer a veteran waits, the more difficult it becomes. Sometimes long delays combined with unforeseeable circumstances may cause denial of the claim.

The Veterans Administration explains that to warrant payment of compensation, the veteran must show that the disease or injury suffered in service has left a continuing disability. If the claim is filed after discharge, medical evidence is required to show this continuity. The longer the veteran waits to file the claim, the greater amount of evidence is required to show continuity.

With the passage of years, Mr. Weston noted, people forget essential names, dates and addresses; doctors move or die and vital information needed becomes unavailable.

Veterans themselves may suffer additional disease or injury which may make the origin of the disability hard to determine. Without necessary evidence, the claim may have to be denied.

Any veterans who have claim problems, or questions concerning their service incurred disabilities should not hesitate to make inquiry at the VA office, third floor, Cumberland Post Office Building.

Body Found On Mountain Is Identified

Amos Walker Died Of Natural Causes

The body of a man found on the slope of Flat Top Mountain in Hardy County, W. Va., Saturday has been identified as that of Amos Walker, 70-year-old Elkton, Va., resident.

Cpl. C. G. Hamrick of the Moorefield detachment of the West Virginia State Police said positive identification was made possible by the tattered clothing and shoes on the body and the color of the man's hair.

The state policeman's investigation disclosed that Walker had visited the Silas Ritchie home atop Flat Top Mountain for two or three days in July.

The Ritchie family was able to give a good description of the man, the clothing he wore and his general physical condition which was described as "poor."

He apparently was walking along a little used path down the mountainside when he is believed to have collapsed and died of natural causes near a small stream called Brakes Run. The body was found about four miles from the Ritchie residence, Cpl. Hamrick stated.

The dead man was described as a hermit or recluse who was a native of Hardy County, having lived in the Needmore and Mathias areas for most of his life. He had been living in Elkton, however, for the past two or three years, the state policeman said.

The badly decomposed body was found by a group of hunters Saturday. Dr. M. H. Maxwell of Moorefield examined the body and said he could find no evidence of foul play. He was unable to determine the exact time of death.

Members of the hunting party were identified as Forrest Bergdoll, of Terra Alta; his brothers, Carl and Leland Bergdoll, both of Moorefield, and S. M. Mongold, of South Fork section.

Cpl. Hamrick said the remote area where the body was found is about three miles from the main road. The hunters and Cpl. Hamrick carried it to a pickup truck to bring it off the mountain. The state policeman said burial is expected to be held in Moorefield.
